Mrs. Nellie Bullock Committed to Asylum Under New Law of State

Oakland Woman Addicted to Use of Paragoric Prescribed for Her Baby

Nellie Bullock of 2334 Clark street, wife of Charles A. Bullock of the plumbing firm of J. C. Bullock & Sons, doing business at 953 San Pablo avenue, was committed this forenoon in the Superior Court to the public insane asylum at Napa for a period of three months, by a lunacy commission over which Judge John Ellsworth presided, on the charge of being an intemperate person.

The commitment was made under the new section of the political code of the state, which provides for the sending to insane asylums for treatment individuals who are habitually addicted to the use of alcoholic beverages and narcotic drugs. Mrs. Bullock was taken from her home late yesterday afternoon on an affidavit sworn to by her husband, in the office of the district attorney, and placed in the detention ward of the Receiving Hospital to await her hearing. She was taken to Napa today.

The testimony adduced at her hearing showed that Mrs. Bullock was addicted to the use of paragoric, which contains a considerable proportion of laudanum, carrying about 40 per cent opium and morphine. She is the first woman to be committed under the new law as a drug addict, and the first married woman and mother in the county to appear before a lunacy commission since the law went into effect.

According to testimony given before the lunacy commission by members of Mrs. Bullock's family, the woman began the use of paragoric about three years ago when the preparation was prescribed by a physician for one of the babies in the treatment of infantile colic.

It was not long before Mrs. Bullock became a slave to the soothing effects of the opium the compound contained and in the course of a short time she could not do without it. Eventually she developed an uncontrollable mania for paragoric, resorting to every cunning device that "dope fiends" can connect to keep herself supplied with it and taking the preparation in large quantities despite everything that members of her family could do to prevent her from using the narcotic.

Mrs. Bullock collapsed last evening when she found herself a prisoner in the detention division of the Receiving Hospital, meaning and writhing on her bed, exhibiting mental and physical distress. She passed a restless and sleepless night and this forenoon before being taken into court pleaded piteously with the attendants for paragoric to allay her suffering.

Presiding this forenoon over a lunacy commission, Superior Judge T. W. Harris committed Miss Della Graham, 1109 East

Joaquin Miller Sees City First Time Since Illness

For the first time since his serious illness last winter, Joaquin Miller "Poet of the Sierras," strolled the streets of Oakland this noon, accompanied by his daughter, Jacinta, who came from New York several months ago to remain with her father. Miller was dressed in the costume that had made him conspicuous in this community for the last 25 years. He wore a pair of knee boots and a sombrero, underneath which flowed his long gray locks, while a long light overcoat enveloped the remainder of his form. As he believed that he would not be able to stand the strain of his daughter, he appeared to have regained a great deal of the strength that he lost last winter and true to his own prediction that he would within a few months "be as well as ever," his step was lively and he gazed about him as if with a desire to take in everything that he might have missed during his enforced confinement at "The Heights." In one hand he carried a small satchel containing papers relative to his estate which he is endeavoring to get into shape while he may still supervise his own interests.

The trip to Oakland was made by conveyance as far as El Dorado where the street car was made use of for the remainder of the distance into the business section. He will return this evening to his home.

There was every prospect that the peace pact would be signed very soon. It is believed that the United States government and ourselves are now in substantial agreement as regards the details of the draft of a treaty," he said.

Charter Prevents Signing of Contracts Unless Money to Pay Is on Hand

With Funds Almost Depleted, Improvements Cannot Be Made Until Winter

This provision in the city charter ties the hands of the council and presents a serious snag in city affairs:

"Sec. 131. No contracts made, the expense of whose execution is not provided by law or ordinance to be paid by assessment upon the property benefited, shall be binding or of any force, unless the auditor shall enforce thereon his certificate that there remains unexpended and unapplied as herein provided, a balance of the appropriation or fund applicable thereto, sufficient to pay the estimated expense of executing such contract, as certified by the board or officer making the same. This provision shall not apply to work done, or supplies furnished, involving expenditure of less than two hundred and fifty dollars, unless the same is required by law to be done by contract at public letting. The auditor shall make such endorsement upon every such contract so presented to him, if there remains unapplied and unexpended such amount so certified by the board or officer making the contract, and thereafter such sum shall be held and retained to pay the expense incurred until the contract shall be fully performed. The auditor shall furnish weekly to the head of each department a statement of the unexpended balances of the appropriation for his department."

Financial difficulties of a very serious nature are presented to the new city council by reason of a provision of the new city charter which prevents the city entering upon any contract unless the money to pay the claim is in the treasury at the time. Funds from the taxes on the first installment will not be available until next November, and at the present time the funds are almost depleted. As a consequence of this situation the council faces the probability of having its hands tied through the summer and autumn months so far as contracts for sewer, street work or provisions are concerned, making it impossible to provide necessary improvements in the streets and in storm sewers for defense against the winter storms.

The situation is an anomalous one. Heretofore the city had been able to enter into contracts for which the city credit was good, and the money could be looked forward to as being available when the debt should fall due to the

WORKS DEFENDS SCIENCE IN SPEECH

Remarkable Reply Made to Owens' Claim for New Board

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A remarkable defense of Christian science and his own experience in that faith, including the story of his own transition from scoffing to devout believer, was made in the Senate by Senator Works of California.

His speech was in reply to one by Senator Owen, whose bill for a department of public health has met opposition from many Christian Science supporters of various schools of medicine.

Works denounced the movement for a national department of health as an attempt by the American Medical Association to control medical activities. Works said Christian science had rescued him from death and had saved his wife from suffering.

Mayor Wilson Doesn't Take Kindly to Dictates of His Party

Invited to Attend Meeting, but Says That He's Unable to Be Present

BERKELEY, July 6.—Socialist Councilman John A. Wilson, having given a negative answer yesterday to the question if he would take program from the Mayor Wilson Socialist city administration, the query arises today, will Mayor Wilson accept the program of the Socialist party of Berkeley?

The mayor has indicated that he will answer the organization in the same negative fashion that characterized the stand of Councilman Wilson at yesterday's council meeting when he and other Socialists opposed the mayor's recommendation that Redmond P. Staats be appointed city attorney.

Mayor Wilson, after announcing this morning that he was happy and going about his business, added that he was looking up the matter of filing of resignations with the Socialist party of members of that organization as soon as they take office. Wilson, the mayor, has filed no such resignation, although Wilson, the councilman, announced yesterday that he had done so, and that his party was privileged to enforce his retirement at once if it desired.

WILL LOOK INTO MATTER.

When asked this morning if it were to present their resignations the moment they entered public service, Mayor Wilson said:

"It is frequently done, but I don't think it is imperative. I am looking into the question as to whether it is absolutely necessary."

"The Socialists of Berkeley have never conferred with me in regard to appointments nor concerning the formal filing of my resignation with the party."

The mayor said he had been invited to attend a meeting of the Socialists tomorrow night, when city appointments are to be discussed, but that he would be unable to attend on account of a council meeting the same evening.

MAY DISAGREE.

It is expected that Councilman Wilson will continue his opposition to Mayor Wilson and Councilman Turner when the appointment of a new building inspector comes up. Although he agreed with them, at a recent conference, upon the naming of H. J. Banker, the trades union leader, to fill the vacancy to be created by the removal of B. P. Bull, he is now far from being tractable.

Councilman Wilson is backing the Socialists who are opposed to the choice of Staats as city attorney, because the lawyer figured in eviction proceedings against

'DONAHUE LAID TRAP TO CATCH DALTON'---EASTMAN

Denies a Bribe Was Offered by Company

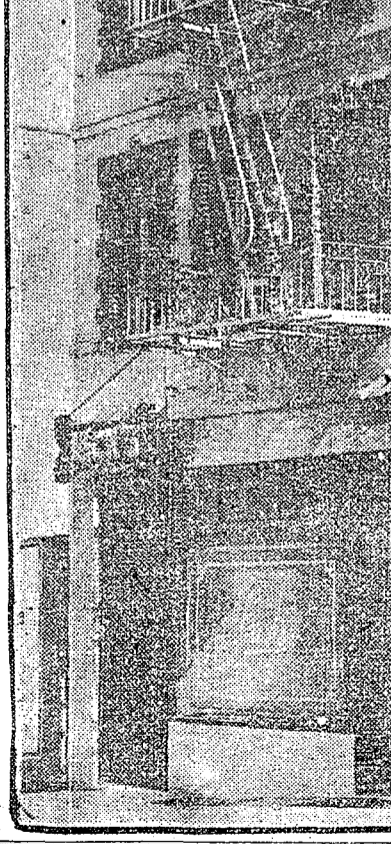

Tells of Meetings He Had With Assessor

In the trial of County Assessor Dalton in Judge Brown's department of the superior court this morning on the charge of asking for and receiving a bribe from the Spring Valley Water Company, Vice-President S. P. Eastman of that corporation was on the stand until the noon adjournment, when he was excused. He had been under cross-examination by Attorney Fairall since shortly before noon yesterday. The questions of the attorney for the defendant were pointed and covered every phase of the case which had been touched upon by Assistant District Attorney Hynes for the prosecution.

Eastman was calm throughout the inquiry and answered with ease and deliberation. He denied all intimations on the part of the counsel for the defense that he was taking part in the commission of a crime in passing $5000. over to the defendant, claiming that whatever he had done in that respect had been done under the instructions of the district attorney of Alameda county and in the interests of the people.

Just before the noon adjournment the second charge against Dalton was continued by the court until July 13 to be set.

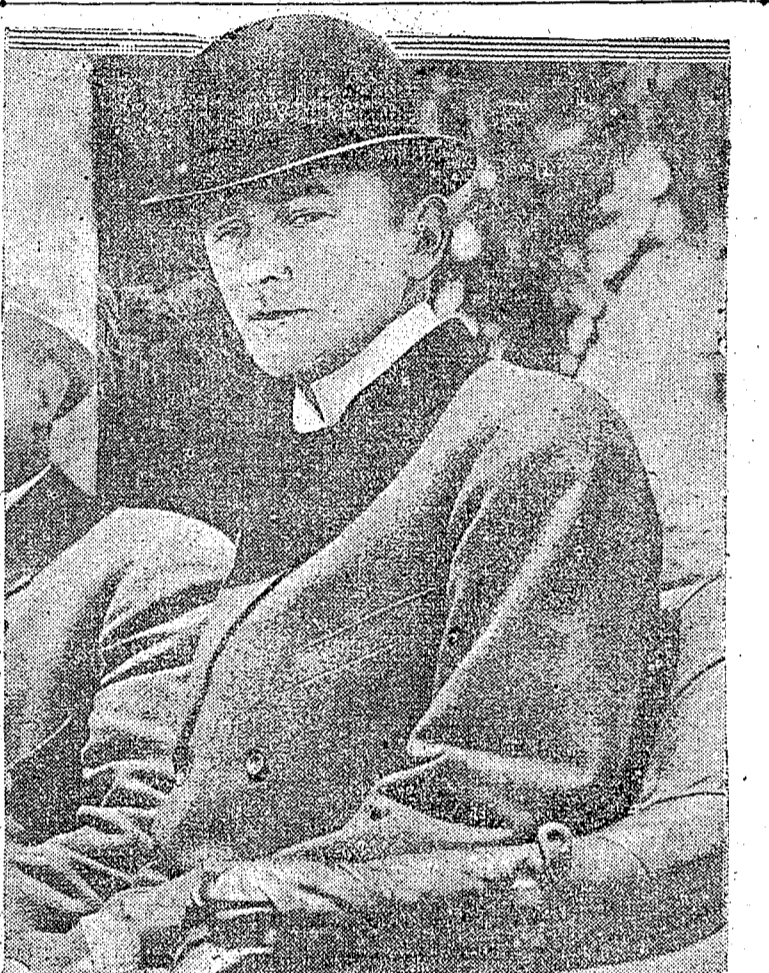

The cross-examination by Fairall of Vice-President Eastman of the Spring Valley Water Company was resumed this morning. The witness was asked as to the condition of the door between room No. 6 and No. 5 in "Jack's" rotisserie in which it is alleged the meeting between himself and Dalton took place. The witness said he could not see whether or not the rolling door between the two apartments had been raised off the floor. He said that Dalton sat on the opposite side of the table from him and obstructed the witness's line of vision. He admitted knowing that the rolling door was to be raised several inches from the floor in order that people in room No. 5 might overhear the conversation which was taking place.

The witness was questioned as to how Dalton would be able to satisfy any claim that might be raised by the people when there should be a reduction made in the assessment of the Spring Valley Water Company and stated that the supervisors as a board of equalization would accept the assessor's valuation.

The witness declared that Dalton had said he thought it would be a good thing for him to write a letter to the district attorney on the subject of the reduction of the assessment of the company and so frame it that the district attorney would have to give an opinion in favor of the proposition and that the district attorney, in the event of a protest be

HOSPITALS CARE FOR FAINTING

New York Train Delayed and Many Passengers Are Carried Out Prostrated

Rain Brings Relief to Panting East; Chicago's Death Toll Is 201

NEW YORK, July 6.—A blockade in the subway added to the misery of the hot wave today. When the stalled train finally crept into the underground station fainting passengers were taken out by the score. Some were taken to hospitals.

There was no change for the better here today, compared with Wednesday. At 10 o'clock the mercury had reached 84 and six deaths had been reported up to that time. Relief is promised by tomorrow, with hope of thunder showers tonight.

201 ARE DEAD.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Two hundred and one deaths and two hundred and seventy-three prostrations was the toll exacted by Chicago's record-breaking hot wave which lasted for five days. One hundred and twenty-five babies who died from the heat are included in the list of dead.

The hot wave was broken shortly after 1 o'clock this morning by rain, which brought with it a cool breeze and a drop in the temperature of six degrees. Later the wind shifted from the west to the north and the mercury gradually dropped until at 7 o'clock it stood at 80 degrees, six points lower than at the corresponding hour yesterday. At 9 o'clock the temperature was 78, compared with 93 for the same hour yesterday. The official weather forecaster predicts cooler, unsettled weather today, with thunder storms for tonight.

RELIEF FROM HEAT.

KANSAS CITY, July 6.—With temperatures over the northwest at 7 o'clock this morning reading from five to ten degrees lower than at the same hour yesterday and light showers in sight over most of the territory decided relief from the heat of the last four days was predicted today by the local forecaster. Yesterday's climax of the heat wave will not be reached

Extreme Heat Hatches Eggs in Massachusetts

Hen Abandons Setting and Perspiring Sun Does the Work Just as Good.

LOWELL, Mass., July 6.—Gilbert Wright of Chelmsford, a suburb of Lowell, reports that a setting of eggs a hen had abandoned when most ready to hatch, hatched out without the hen's assistance at the finish. The heat had been so intense that it drove the hen off the nest, but it was warm enough for the atmosphere to take the place of the hen. Ten eggs have already hatched and others are expected today.

BOYS CAUGHT IN CLOUDBURST DROWN

Three Lads Lose Lives Beneath Great Wall of Water

SANTA FE, N. M., July 6.—Three boys, aged 12 to 18 years, were drowned by a cloudburst yesterday in San Cristobal arroyo, 20 miles south of Santa Fe. The boys, who were driving in a wagon, were caught by a wall of water, although their team of horses managed to swim to safety.

Declares Hillis Is Issuing Ungrounded False Reports

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Charges that as a sentiment concerning presidential candidates, were made today in a letter by Representative Norris of Nebraska, insurgent leader in the House addressed to the Nebraska Progressive Republican League.

Aviators Leave Dover and Recross English Channel

CALAIS, France, July 6.—The covey of French aviators that descended on the English coast last Monday took wing from Dover at daybreak, and a half hour later settled lightly on the soil of France. The flight over the straits of Dover was accomplished easily, with favorable though hazy weather. Vedrines led the way. He ascended at 4:30 and arrived at Calais at 5:14. The others arrived in this order: Vidari, 5:01; Beaumont, 5:05;

Gilbert, 5:12; Garros, 5:18; Kimmeling, 5:45; Tabuteau, 5:25; Rexau and Barra, 7:04. This completes the eighth stage. The next leg will be from Calais to Paris with a stop at Amiens, completing the international circuit between the French and British capitals.

today by from ten to fifteen degrees, he said.
In the 24 hours ended at 7 o'clock this morning there were nine deaths from heat and twenty prostrations in Kansas City.

RELIEF GENERAL.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Practically the only section of the country where the hot wave that has spread from the Atlantic to the Middle West remained unbroken today is that of the North Atlantic States. Rain brought the long awaited cool wave to the upper lake region, the plains States and the Middle West today and further reductions in temperatures are probable in the 24 to 36 hours. Showers have moderated the heat in the Southern States.
By tomorrow night the East generally will get relief, it is predicted, and the worst and most prolonged spell of heat since 1901 will be broken. In the 24 hours ended at 7 o'clock today, the temperature was 88 degrees compared with 93 yesterday morning, and the country today.

HEAT CONTINUES.

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—The oppressive heat continues here and there is no indication that the hot spell will be broken today.

THREE DEAD IN IOWA.

DAVENPORT, Ia., July 6.—Three deaths resulted here today from the excessive heat of yesterday afternoon and last night. A heavy rain falling over this section last night brought relief.

BOSTON STILL WARM.

BOSTON, July 6.—The official temperatures at 10 a. m. today were 93 degrees, exactly the same as on Tuesday, which was the hottest day ever experienced in Boston.
The heat so far has directly caused ten deaths in New England and there have been forty-seven drowning accidents.
Six deaths and thirty prostrations up to 1 p. m. was today's human toll exacted by the heat wave in this city. At noon the weather bureau thermometer marked 93. Street thermometers registered 105 degrees in the shade.
Added to the terrors of the unprecedented heat was a shortage of ice and milk. In several Massachusetts cities and towns industrial establishments were closed for the remainder of the week.

THREE REPORTED DEAD.

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—The deaths of a woman and two babies were reported today.

LUNDINE ASSAILS THE OLD ITALIAN SCHOOL OF SINGING

Berkeley Teacher Startles Convention of Musicians

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Deriding the so-called "Old Italian School" of singing, and declaring that all vocal teachers should adopt a common method, Carolus Lundine of Berkeley aroused considerable comment when he read a paper on "The Scientific Art of Song and Voice Production" before the Music Teachers' Convention of the Pacific Coast this morning in Century Hall. Lundine urged the assembled teachers to agree upon some common basis for teaching singing, so that pupils would not have their voices ruined by changing from one instructor to another. He said that the pretensions of those who claimed to have particular "methods" were responsible for this state of affairs.
"Though the principals of artistic tone production was known to the old masters, I personally have no faith whatever in the cry 'The Old Italian School,'" said Lundine, "as it is now used by many teachers to advertise their methods. They have, in fact, caused it to lose favor in the eyes of a thinking public."

DO MORE NOW.

"Today we do more for the voice in from three to five years than the results shown on the part of the old masters in six to ten years of training. We know now that voices are trained and developed upon scientific principles, and not by years and years of hard practice. This ought to be very encouraging to the American spirit of haste and quick results. I believe that among the teachers of the world there is now less difference of opinion with regard to fundamental principles than with the devices used to study development, and apply those principles.
"All teachers undoubtedly work for the same end: free, flexible, beautiful tone, but the devices used, commonly called 'method,' are so widely different that the results are different. Almost every singing teacher has a method or system of his own, and we hear very often of pupils changing teachers being obliged to change their methods of singing entirely. This is an amazing and perplexing situation."
The tribal music of the American Indians was one of the novel features of the convention today, with a lecture by Charles Waleman Cadman and vocal illustrations by Mrs. Willis N. Tiffany of Los Angeles.
The lecturer showed the analogy between an Indian hymn and examples of the European music, following by the rendition of native melodies transcribed by Arthur Farwell, H. W. Loomis, Cadman and other musical investigators.
A paper by Charles Warwell Edson on the art of music, addresses on voice culture by Marie Withrow and on accoustics by E. M. Payson were also heard.
Herman Perlet presented his new quintette, preceded by a talk on chamber music.
Only the works of American composers will be given at tonight's concert. The performers today were Fred G. Ellis, Mrs. Harry Clifford Lott, Wm. B. King and Mrs. Carrie Brown Dexter.
President Louis H. Eaton has announced that sufficient funds have been pledged to guarantee a permanent symphony orchestra for five years in San Francisco.
A spirited and rather noisy discussion concluded the first session of the association yesterday afternoon, following the presentation by Thor Raje, of the Pacific Music Institute, of a resolution pledging the members of the association not to seek public recognition as teachers for anything except authenticated performances or achievements of their own students.
As soon as Raje began to read his resolution, he was checked by President Louis H. Eaton, who announced that his motion was out of order. But Raje continued reading.
"You are out of order, Mr. Raje," said Eaton, but it was too late.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—August Raymond, night clerk at the hotel at 1084 Polson street, was showing two young men to a room early this morning when he found himself looking into the barrels of two revolvers held by one of them. He fought them off and ran downstairs, but was struck over the head and one of his teeth knocked out by the footpads, who made their escape before the arrival of the police.

Boy Kicked by Horse Dies of His Injuries

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Kicked by a horse in front of his home, 523 Filbert street, at noon yesterday, William Bagnani, 2 years old, died early this morning. The little boy was playing in front of the house and ran under the horse's hoofs. He was carried into the house and a physician summoned, but nothing could be done to save his life.

HANDS OF CITY COUNCIL Commissioners Unable to Award Any Contract Unless Money to Pay Is in the Treasury

service rendered. Under the provisions of the new charter the money to pay for the contract must be presently on hand when the contract is entered into, or the contract is invalid.
"What are we going to do, sit here like posts without the power to act?" asked Councilman William J. Baucus when the situation was presented to the city council this morning. "There are contractors who have to be given into. We must dispose of garbage, we must make contracts for supplies, for feeding the prisoners, for feeding the horses in the street department, and for other current expenses. We can't let the prisoners and horses starve. There must be some way of getting around so awkward a situation."

PLAN NOT ADOPTED.

"When this clause in the charter was under consideration," said Councilman Fred C. Turner, "I went before the board of freeholders and suggested that the fiscal year should be made to commence January 1 instead of July 1, as it is always the case that in the summer we need money to prepare the streets for the winter, and this measure in the charter would necessarily create a condition of almost bankruptcy on the part of the treasury for the months before the taxes begin to come in and the funds become available.
"There were other objections to the plan of making the fiscal year commence with the calendar year, and that plan was not adopted. As a result, the council faces a very unpleasant situation. It would be foolish to delay important work that would not be paid for until accomplished just because the money to pay for it is not actually in the treasury at the time of entering into contract."
The matter was raised in connection with a recommendation from Commissioner John Forrest of the department of finance and revenue which carried as two of its items a $15,000 appropriation to pay for crossings in Sixteenth street, the residents and property owners to pave the balance of the street, and the appropriation of $1000 for a fire house site in Alameda. It was pointed out that the money is not on hand in the funds designated to pay these items, and that as a consequence the council would be violating the terms of the city charter should it pass them and enter into contract.

COURTS MAY DETERMINE.
It is possible that a resort to the courts to determine the validity of this section of the charter may be made to solve the knotty problem that presents itself to the council. Should the council enter into a contract without a certain amount of the money to pay for it, to meet the expense was at that time in the treasury, the validity of the contract could be determined by a friendly suit in the courts, and this would determine the validity of this section of the charter.
It remains a question, however, whether the courts should be placed in the position of superceding the authority of the charter, which has been established as the only law of the city, both by the electorate and the State Legislature. The matter was referred to City Attorney Ben F. Woolner, Councilman John Forrest, City Auditor George Gross and Expert Accountant L. G. Jones to take under consideration. A plan for forwarding the business of the city without violating the charter will be sought by these men.
"The provision is one that I think might have been eliminated from the charter without damaging that instrument," said City Attorney Woolner this morning in explaining the situation. "It is one that has been under consideration by my office, but so far I am unable to see any way to get around the difficulty. It is a very serious difficulty, as the beginning of the fiscal year marks the entering upon a host of contracts for supplies for the coming twelve months. The tax rate will probably not be determined till some time in September, and money from the first installment will not be available until November."

Oakland Woman Committed for Constant Use of Paragoric.

Nineteenth street, to the insane asylum at Napa for one year, to be treated for insanity under the new section of the Political Code, which provides for this disposition of persons who are habitually in temperate in the use of either alcoholic beverages or narcotic drugs. The commission's original intention was to send the young woman up for two years, but to this she demurred, although she expressed a willingness to be committed for six months. A year was then settled upon as a reasonable compromise.
Several members of the girl's family were present at the hearing, including J. J. Graham, her father, who had charged his daughter's dipsomania to the influence of "some drunken old hag" over her and declared that he would ask the court to compel Miss Graham to disclose the identity of the evil person, whom she always had persisted did not exist in fact. Graham's determination failed to bear fruit during the hearing, however, and the testimony upon which the young woman was committed was substantially along the lines of the story of her slavery to alcoholism published in THE TRIBUNE of last evening.

TRIED SCIENCE.

The only new feature of the case brought out before the lunacy commission developed during the testimony of Assistant Probation Officer Beatrice A. McCall, who had the young woman under her personal observation and surveillance for nearly a year. She stated that last fall Miss Graham manifested considerable interest in the study of the religion with a view to becoming a practitioner. Her father encouraged her in the idea and furnished her with money for tuition with a leading local Scientist. For a while the young woman studied faithfully and took such an interest in the work that all those interested in the case thought she would be redeemed.
But just when their hopes were highest Miss Graham again disappeared from home and could not be located for three weeks. She went on a protracted drunk and wound up at the City Prison charged with intoxication.
Miss Graham told the commission that a glass of beer taken when she was 17 years old at the solicitation of a woman friend, whose name she did not divulge, had been her first drink. She said that she had never used tobacco in any form she had never used narcotics, and that the only reason she drank liquor was because she was nervous and dependent, and not for any other reason. She could get out of it. She was very nervous during the hearing and admitted to the doctors that alcoholism had shattered her nervous system.

LOCAL UNIVERTITY IN HEALTH CULT

Large Following of City and Country Folk for Expert

Too Much Mystery Wrapped Around Healing of Disease in Past

The number of believers in the "new health" doctrine of Professor J. M. Munyon, the noted health expert, has grown so large in San Francisco that they have attained to the dignity of a regular cult. These "Munyon Converts," as they style themselves, are as enthusiastic about Munyon's ideas and methods as the members of any regular creed or society. They claim that they have secured remarkable results from the practice of Munyon's advice and rules of health, and are emphatic in praise of his medicine.
In a short statement Munyon said: "There is nothing elaborate or difficult about my health theories. On the contrary, simplicity is the very keynote of all my opinions and practice. I believe there has been too much mystery thrown about the practice of medicine. I have often said there is no punishment too severe for those who deceive the sick, and now I want to add that the man who possesses the knowledge and skill to relieve some of the pain and sorrow with which this world is so sadly afflicted, and who puts a price on his knowledge so high as to make it out of the reach of the people, is not less to be condemned. Both of these classes have made health a matter so mysterious, so complicated with lies, superstitions and misleading theories, that to the ordinary person the true simplicity of the most effective methods which will banish sickness seems almost incredible.
"I think that one of the reasons for the undoubted success I have met in San Francisco is the plain simplicity of my methods. My remedies are the product of the combined brains of the best medical men in America and they are given out in the form of treatments so harmonized and combined that they are adapted to each individual case. We do not attempt to treat symptoms. We go right to the root of the disease. We aim for a permanent cure, not merely temporary relief—and I guess we've been getting a few cures, the way some of the residents of San Francisco have been talking in the newspapers."
A steady stream of callers kept Munyon's headquarters busy all day at the main store of the Owl Drug Company in the Phelan building. Many were firm adherents to Munyon's ideas, and claimed extraordinary cures. One of the physicians in charge said:
"One cannot stay in this store for a single hour without meeting patients of ours who are returning to tell us of the most remarkable results obtained from this new Munyon treatment. If any one doubts this, let them come in and try it."

WILL SOCIALIST TAKE PROGRAM?

A family in South Berkeley, where Councilman Wilson resides.
ENTERS A PROTEST.
A. F. Wald, who was a candidate for councilman on the Socialist ticket at the primary last spring, condemns the alleged dictatorial actions of the Longfellow and other improvement clubs regarding municipal affairs. Councilman Wilson is a supporter of the Longfellow organization of South Berkeley, which opposed the appointment of Staats. Said Wald today:
"The action of some of the clubs is inconsistent with their former attitude in municipal affairs. Being a member of the Longfellow Club I was given to understand that its object was the promotion of civic betterment.
"The local branch of the Socialist party has refrained from using any undue influence to secure appointments, for the very just reason that it would be unfair to the many citizens not having the advantage of an organization to formulate their demands.
"That the great mass of the people who selected our present officials did so with confidence in the ability of the candidates, and that they had only 50 cents in his possession they became enraged and struck him over the head with a fragment of cement from the street, cutting a deep wound in his temple.
"Wong Sing was found by passersby unconscious in the street and the police were notified shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The aged man was taken to the receiving hospital, where his wounds were dressed, the cut in his forehead necessitating nine stitches to bring the edges of the severed flesh together.
"Wong Sing explained to Captain Thorwald Brown that the two negroes had jumped out upon him from the street corner and after searching him and taking half a dollar, they attacked him with rocks from the street and knocked him to the ground. Both negroes then ran off, leaving him in dark clothes. They were apparently without weapons."

NEGRO THUGS BEAT AN AGED CHINAMAN

Leave Victim Unconscious On Street After Robbing Him of 50 Cents.

Two young negroes waylaid and brutally beat Wong Sing, an aged Chinaman, residing at 360 Fifth street, last night, at First and Webster streets. They had prepared to rob the Chinaman, but when they found he had only 50 cents in his possession they became enraged and struck him over the head with a fragment of cement from the street, cutting a deep wound in his temple.
Wong Sing was found by passersby unconscious in the street and the police were notified shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The aged man was taken to the receiving hospital, where his wounds were dressed, the cut in his forehead necessitating nine stitches to bring the edges of the severed flesh together.
Wong Sing explained to Captain Thorwald Brown that the two negroes had jumped out upon him from the street corner and after searching him and taking half a dollar, they attacked him with rocks from the street and knocked him to the ground. Both negroes then ran off, leaving him in dark clothes. They were apparently without weapons."

Good Feet? Never After Using TIZ—
Sore feet, aching feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelly feet, tired feet.
Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.
You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.
It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof. TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on the stinging of the feet and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.
You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like new again.
If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.
TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Credit is a Practical Necessity in Business

It is estimated that 90 per cent of wholesale and 85 per cent of retail transactions are conducted either on credit or through the use of credit instruments, such as checks and drafts. Credit is therefore an essential part of all business. The foundations of credit are capital, character and ability. But before credit can be established at a bank, upon these foundations, there must be acquaintance. That is why shrewd men of business make it a point to connect themselves with a strong, progressive bank, whose management is capable and whose capital is large enough for all ordinary requirements. That is why you should connect yourself with the

MILITIA OUT TO PREVENT LYNCHING

Mob Said to Be Forming at La Junta, Colo., to Hang Negro Prisoner.

Governor Shafroth Orders a Company Into the Field to Prevent Violence.

DENVER, July 6.—Governor Shafroth ordered out a company of militia at La Junta, Colorado, today to prevent the possible lynching of Ben Harris, the negro accused of killing Chief of Police Craig at Rocky Ford Tuesday night. Harris was captured this morning at Rocky Ford and hurried to La Junta in an automobile. It is reported that a mob is forming at Rocky Ford to lynch him. Governor Shafroth has notified three other companies to be ready to go to the scene if required. Harris was discovered in the parsonage of the negro church at Rocky Ford. He had two bullet wounds in the head, indicating that the officers had upon him at the time of his attempted arrest.

KNOWLAND CALLS FOR HARBOR TALK

Will Confer With Commercial Bodies of This City and Alameda.

The commercial bodies of this city and Alameda, and the harbor committee appointed by Mayor Mott and the city council of Alameda, will be called together, early next week by Congressman Joseph R. Knowland for the purpose of conferring on harbor improvements. Knowland expects to return to Washington on next Wednesday, is calling this meeting to learn just what improvements the two cities want in the way of harbor work.

Following this expression of needs, Knowland then intends to take the matter up with the government engineer, with the idea of getting a favorable recommendation to the war department, in order to secure for the matter due consideration when Congress meets in December. The congressman thinks there is no possibility of matters of general legislation coming up during the coming session. He further states that, according to reports received by Congress before he left Washington, the Panama canal, which was not completed, will admit of the passage of ships in July, 1913, and that it will be necessary to have Oakland harbor in condition by that time for the reception of the additional commerce that will result.

The commercial bodies and improvement clubs want both sides on Brooklyn basin dredged to a depth of thirty feet and a width of 300 feet and a channel of the same proportion to deep water.

RAFFLES IN REAL LIFE

FEMALE BURGLAR DONS MALE ATTIRE

Woman Masquerading as Man Creates Alarm in Colorado Springs.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 6.—A female Raffles, attired in men's clothing, the police say, has been perpetrating a series of burglaries that have occurred in the fashionable North and West districts of Colorado Springs during the last several weeks. That the burglar is a woman was not known until Tuesday morning. While robbing the home of Mrs. Anna Williamson, 830 East High street, the girl allowed a heavy watch fob which she was in the act of removing from Mrs. Williamson's dresser to strike against the furniture and awaken Mrs. Williamson. When the latter awoke she saw the girl allowed a heavy watch fob which a street light disclosing her form to be that of a woman attired in men's clothing. The burglar pointed a large revolver at Mrs. Williamson, keeping her closely covered while the female Raffles carefully made her exit through the open window.

SAN FRANCISCO POLICE FORCE IS SHAKEN UP

Chief White Issues Orders Transferring All but One of the District Captains

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The biggest shakeup of the police department in San Francisco since the days of Chief Crowley was effected by the administration through Chief of Police White last night, when every district captain with the exception of Mooney of the O'Farrell street station was transferred. Not a single branch of the service escaped renovation, and before the re-districting of the department is completed more than four hundred patrolmen will be transferred to new posts. More than fifty changes were made by the orders issued last night by Chief White. The orders affected only heads of departments and officers of rank and are merely the preliminaries in the policy of twist and switch that has been decided on by the administration in the police department.

CHANGES LONG PLANNED. Most of the changes were in accordance with a long contemplated program and resulted in restoring to the inner fold men whom former Chief of Police Seymour relegated to street or obscure duty.

"The policemen are to take precedence of the politicians while I am in command of the department," was the announcement made by Chief Seymour when he made the changes. All of Seymour's work has been turned around, however, by the new orders of Chief White.

LIBERAL POLICY MOVE. The reorganization is thoroughly in accord with the expressed policy in the administration of the affairs of San Francisco.

The order removing Sergeant Arthur Layne from duty in command of the Chinatown gambling squad and substituting Sergeant Charles Birdsell of the Southern station was suppressed last night, although it was handed to company commanders. The opening of wholesale gambling in the Chinese district and the best manner of accomplishing it with the least criticism has been a poser many days. At first it was decided to take the gambling squad out altogether and impose the duty of catching and arresting the wily gamblers, on two or three uniformed patrolmen. The absurdity of such a move was apparent, and Birdsell, after the job had been turned down by at least half a dozen other sergeants, decided to try the billet.

GLEESON REFUSES BILLET. James Kelly was picked for the Central station district. This selection was made after a score of meetings of those interested in the conduct of the police in this particular district, and after the position had been positively declined by Captain Gleeson, who was the first choice.

The changes made last night by Chief White this morning announced a new personnel for the Chinatown squad and a new sergeant in charge. Sergeant Charles Birdsell has been assigned to this post, relieving Sergeant Arthur D. Lane, who has consistently closed the gambling houses and has made the nights periods of terror for fabled players and devotees of El Gato by relentlessly chopping down doors and cordoning the visitors with the aid of armed patrolmen. To assist Sergeant Birdsell, a squad of only six men has been detailed to replace the ten who have been doing duty under Sergeant Lane. Those who have been assigned to the Oriental quarter are Policemen T. M. Handley, H. Scowin, P. Cronin, Thomas Collier, Frank Mahoney and Thomas White. The last named is a brother to the chief of police.

Chief White today denied himself on arriving at his office to the newspapermen, refusing to be interviewed regarding last night's startling shakeup in the several departments. Of all the changes made, these in the detective bureau are the most sweeping as men of long service, some of whom have distinguished themselves by clever captures, have been transferred to make room for others who were deposited when Chief of Police Seymour took his seat.

THIEF IN EVENING DRESS GETS $5000

'Raffles' in Real Life Tells How He Robbed Wealthy Brooklyn Families.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Adventures rivaling those of the invincible 'Raffles' were laid bare to the Brooklyn police last night when Lieutenant Karl Von Metz-Meyer of the Norwegian Army, as he styles himself, was arrested on a charge of burglary. Smiling and self-possessed, Von Metz-Meyer entertained the officers with stories of how, attired in evening clothes and carrying a cane, he entered at least a dozen fashionable Brooklyn residences, generally while the occupants were at dinner, and took articles valued at $5000. Von Metz-Meyer claims to come from a prominent Norwegian family and says he came to this country to study banks and banking laws on a three-years' leave of absence. Incidentally he sought an American wife with money.

HATS HIGHER THAN HIGHER EDUCATION

Enormous Headgear of School 'Marms From Interior Obstruct Knowledge Path.

Lectures and Lecturers Lost in Forest of Nodding Plumes and Rampant Quills.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, July 6.—The problem of the hour at the summer session is not one of higher mathematics nor of higher education, but of a woman's hat.

Headgear as worn by the schoolmarm from the interior, where the theater hat removal rule does not apply, is unknown, has provided the issue: Shall the face of the instructor, whether homely or of good appearance, be obscured from the gaze of the lecture-room auditor? During the regular sessions at the university no such question has arisen. A majority of the regular women students who live in Berkeley do not wear hats at all, but attend college bareheaded. Those from Oakland and San Francisco remove their hats in the class rooms.

But the summer school is apparently regarded by the permanent workers of the intellectual feast as a sort of afternoon tea, at which the hat may be removed or kept according to the beauty of the head adornment.

A woman student, who wouldn't for the world have her name mentioned, declared today that the women must decide the question. This is her further view of the matter:

"Since the opening of the summer session complaints have been made by the students of many classes that the profusely ornamented edifices that fashion decrees for women's hats completely bar out the sight of the instructor in the classes. The complaints have been mostly from men and through gallantry or fear confined themselves to slight grumblings or inward reflections.

"However, their ranks have been somewhat swelled by a few women whose modest head-ornaments allow of their quick removal. The requests of these women that the offending head-gear be removed have sometimes been complied with, sometimes not.

"Those on the affirmative side of the question that hats be removed in the class rooms in accordance with the universal theater rule maintain that enormous hats and higher education are incompatible and that a regard for the view of others demands their removal. The negative side has not been heard from. The men are cautiously silent. The women must decide."

PALMER DECLARES INNOCENCE OF SON

Avers Youth Was Arrested On July 4th, Without Any Provocation.

A. P. Palmer, 1271 Seventeenth street, father of one of the three boys arrested in De-Premery park on the Fourth of July, charged with riotous conduct, declares his son, Fred, 18 years old, a marshall, had nothing to do with the disturbance which involved a number of Greeks, and says that he will pay the matter before the grand jury if necessary in order to obtain an investigation.

Palmer charges that his son was badly beaten by the officers without any provocation whatever, and that he was handcuffed to his friend, Tony Landers, and in that manner taken to the home of a third companion, Robert Rex, in Seventeenth street, where the latter was arrested at the point of a revolver in the presence of his mother, who was extremely ill at the time.

That ball was refused to the amount of $5000 that night also alleged, with Palmer asserts that his son was taken loose without bail, and allowed to leave on his ship with the understanding that he would appear July 11 for a hearing.

JULY CONVENTIONS TO BE HELD HERE

Adventists, Missionary Alliance and S. P. R. S. I. to Gather in Oakland.

Oakland's growing prominence as a convention city is evidenced by the announcement of three gatherings to be held here in the month of July for which the Santa Fe railroad is selling excursion tickets in which Oakland reads as the destination point. These excursions are from points in California to this city.

The first is for the California Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, the sale date being until July 16; the second for the Christian and Missionary Alliance, on July 9 and July 9, and the third on account of the Portuguese Society, S. P. R. S. I., the sale of which also lasts until July 16.

STEEL MAGNATES' CONFAB CLOSES

International Organization of Nine Nations Is Being Planned.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, July 6.—The steel conference concluded the month which had called together representatives from nine steel producing countries in a brief session today and adjourned. Most of the Americans left for Paris late in the afternoon.

The conference appointed a committee of thirty, made up of members proposed by each national group, to work out a plan for an international steel organization and submit it to the full conference when called. The committee was organized by making Judge Gary chairman and W. E. Peat of England secretary, and adjourned to meet again when summoned by the chairman.

Following their deliberations the delegates were received at the palace by King Albert and later visited the battlefield at Waterloo. Judge Gary said he felt that distinct progress had been made toward a "common world code in steel affairs."

WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE AND $20,000 IN GEMS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Twenty thousand dollars' worth of diamonds figure in a divorce suit begun yesterday by Jeanette Forstland, wife of Theodore Forstland, jewelry salesman of 1524 Waller street. Mrs. Forstland believes she is entitled to the gems and also to other community property valued at $10,000 and asks for such an award. "The principal complaint against Forstland is that he will not allow his wife to visit her mother, who is ill in the German hospital."

Mrs. Schultz notified the Alameda police, and Police Officer Anderson, on the Elmhurst detail, went to the Schultz home and investigated the matter. Mrs. Schultz accuses Mrs. M. E. Leslie, 1210 Ninety-seventh avenue, her next door neighbor, of having made the attempt to burn the barn. There has been ill-feeling between the two families for some time, the cause being, according to Mrs. Leslie, that Mrs. Schultz has on several occasions come into her yard and slapped her children.

Mrs. Leslie denies any knowledge of the affair and points to the fact that the barn immediately adjoins her little home, which had the barn been burned, would probably have destroyed her house also.

The Oakland detective department and Captain of Detective Peterson has detailed a search on the case. Charles Schultz is a butcher in Fruitvale. The family live in the upper story of the building, under which was formerly conducted a butcher shop.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, of fine, double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Goodrich Bros. under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of outline and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask Goodrich Bros. for the double strength ointment. It is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

ECONOMIC VALUE OF SCOUT MOVEMENT IS REPORTED

According to statistics received by local members gathered by the leaders of the Boy Scouts of America, the economic value of the Scouts' activities amounts to millions of dollars a year. They declare that the importance lies in the prevention of malicious mischief and crime among the boys growing out of the "gang" instinct and in the instruction of boys to do constructive things.

Boys naturally get together in crowds, have their leaders, and play various stunts. If the boys are extremely energetic and have any tendency towards destruction they are likely to do damage to a great amount of property.

One of the aims of the Boy Scout movement is to prevent this destruction of property. The leaders of the Boy Scout organization recognize the gang instinct and are seeking to develop it along proper lines.

Throughout the country this aim of turning the energies of boys into useful lines rather than to urge the destruction of property is going on. Reports from all over the country indicate that the aim of the Boy Scout leaders is being attained. The Boy Scouts in New Jersey are fighting the mosquitoes. Out in Kansas they are trying to clean up the dikes. In New Hampshire and Ohio the Scouts are doing everything possible to protect the birds. In almost every state in the union they are planting trees. Boys like to help the firemen and the police, and in various cities the chiefs of police, realizing that a boy's help is much better than his annoyance, are training the boys in police work and various activities. The firemen are training the boys how to act quickly in case of fire and many instances have been recorded of the catching of thieves and the saving of lives of people by Boy Scouts.

ELMHURST, July 6.—What apparently was an attempt to burn down a barn in the backyard of the Schultz home, 1204 Ninety-seventh avenue, was discovered by Mrs. Charles Schultz last night, when on going to the barn she noticed in a corner some loose boards saturated with coal oil and scorched. On making an investigation it was apparent that some one had set fire to the wood, but that it had gone out of its own accord, as there was no sign of dampness, as there would have been had it been put out with water.

BOY SCOUTS OFF FOR THREE-DAY JOURNEY

The Boy Scouts of Bushrod park playground will leave Saturday morning at 7:30 for a three days' trip to Dipsea, near Mount Tamalpais, under the direction of Elbert M. Vail, organizer of the Scouts and director of the boys' department of the playground.

This will be the first excursion to be enjoyed by the new organization of Boy Scouts and on the journey they will be taught the arts of the Boy Scouts by Elbert Vail. The boys have been instructed to be provided with food and blankets.

The march will be made through the big red trees of the Muir woods, down the western slope of Mount Tamalpais to the seashore. There will be various sports on the beach and romping on the sand.

Among those who have signed for the trip are Walter Vervies, James Reed, Dave Romaine, Kenneth Reed, Raymond Jackson, Nolant Davis, Harry Timewell, Philip Coke, Philip Davis, Dorell Victor, Eddie Furr, Roy Ahlin and Roy Anderson.

The members of the Aloha Club of Bushrod park playground will also join the Scouts in the Dipsea expedition. The following will represent the organization: Clarence Krene, Clarence Bunny, Clarence Arms, Lewis Dorell, Hank Deunance, Jack McNabb, Lion Dorell, Starr, Earl Mahan and William Hurrell.

The junior girls of the Hikers' Club of Bushrod park playground will travel to Trestle Glen next Tuesday under the guidance of Miss Johanne Johnson. The members of the company will be Norma Moriarty, Dagmar Madsen, Grace W. Kinson, Marjorie Gross, Ethel McFall, Marianne Mahon, Dixie Coke, Freda Nelson, Ruth Clothier, Ruth Elliott, Ruth Clark, Evelyn Clark, Lily Gross, Norma Madsen, Katherine Busher and Katherine Steops.

ATTEMPT AT ARSON FAILS ITS WORK

Coal Oil Soaked Boards On Big Elmhurst Barn Blaze and Then Go Out.

ELMHURST, July 6.—What apparently was an attempt to burn down a barn in the backyard of the Schultz home, 1204 Ninety-seventh avenue, was discovered by Mrs. Charles Schultz last night, when on going to the barn she noticed in a corner some loose boards saturated with coal oil and scorched. On making an investigation it was apparent that some one had set fire to the wood, but that it had gone out of its own accord, as there was no sign of dampness, as there would have been had it been put out with water.

Mrs. Schultz notified the Alameda police, and Police Officer Anderson, on the Elmhurst detail, went to the Schultz home and investigated the matter. Mrs. Schultz accuses Mrs. M. E. Leslie, 1210 Ninety-seventh avenue, her next door neighbor, of having made the attempt to burn the barn. There has been ill-feeling between the two families for some time, the cause being, according to Mrs. Leslie, that Mrs. Schultz has on several occasions come into her yard and slapped her children.

Mrs. Leslie denies any knowledge of the affair and points to the fact that the barn immediately adjoins her little home, which had the barn been burned, would probably have destroyed her house also.

The Oakland detective department and Captain of Detective Peterson has detailed a search on the case. Charles Schultz is a butcher in Fruitvale. The family live in the upper story of the building, under which was formerly conducted a butcher shop.

MRS. HETTY GREEN SELLS 11 ACRES

Land Acquired Thirty Years Ago Through Foreclosure Brings $80,000.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Mrs. Hetty Green of New York has sold eleven acres of land in Winnetka, a suburb on the north shore of Lake Michigan, for $80,000.

Mrs. Green acquired the property over thirty years ago through foreclosure and, while Winnetka has grown in every direction about it, the old-fashioned colonial frame house and the grounds with their magnificent growth of trees has remained unchanged, save for the growth of the latter.

It is said there are over 100 varieties of trees on the tract, comprising some of the finest specimens in Illinois.

HAPPY RESULTS

Have Made Many Oakland Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Oakland citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Oakland by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Francis John House, 1306 E. Eleventh street, Oakland, Cal., says: "I can vouch for the correctness of the public statement given by a member of my family in August, 1907, in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy was first brought to our notice many years ago and learning of its great value in kidney complaint, a member of our family who suffered severely from this trouble, used it. In this case Doan's Kidney Pills acted promptly and effectively, and the difficulties that had caused so much distress, were removed. At this time I can say that there has been no recurrence of kidney trouble and the member of our family who used Doan's Kidney Pills still holds them in high esteem."

WEDS IN SECRET; COURT-MARTIALED

C. A. Son Chained to the Mast for Wedding Without Telling Friends.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Handcuffed to a mast because he married without telling his fellow-veterans about it, was the fate that befell C. A. Son, a prominent Fillmore street merchant, on last Saturday's southward trip of the steamer Harvard.

Son was tried by court-martial for secreting news of general interest to his acquaintances, found guilty and sentenced to the handcuff penalty by Dr. L. C. Welsbach, a physician of this city.

In company with other Spanish war veterans, Son was on his way to San Diego Saturday to attend the order's convention. He was wedded to Miss Evelyn Marshall of Piedmont just before the boat sailed. His fellow-veterans knew nothing of the marriage. Son confided it to a friend, who was a veteran, and the friend spread the news.

After receiving sentence Son was partially disrobed, handcuffed and bareheaded he was handcuffed to the after mast of the steamer, where he remained twenty minutes. The newly wedded Mrs. Son implored her husband's persecutors to free him, but without avail.

When it became too cool for Son's bare feet his captors walked him into the main dining saloon, where he was shackled to a post and made to dance.

WAR CLOUD IN MOROCCO BLOWN AWAY FOR TIME

LONDON, July 6.—Danger of international complications over the Agadir incident was removed for the present, at least, by an agreement reached by the powers to hold "conversations" over Morocco.

The powers concerned are France, Germany, Great Britain, Spain and Russia, and the proposal for purporters comes from Germany.

There is no question for the moment of another Algeiras conference, but it is recognized that the impending "conversations" are likely to settle definitely the status of the Arab empire, which, standing at the gateway of Europe, has been constantly regarded as a possible cause of international difficulties.

POPE LAUDS U. S. FOR LEADING PEACE MOVEMENT

Autograph Missive Giving Views Sent to Apostolic Delegate, and Copy Is Forwarded to President

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Pope Pius, in an autograph letter to the apostolic delegate to Washington, applauds the lead taken by the United States in the worldwide campaign for international peace.

Although the pontiff does not mention President Taft especially by name, a copy of the letter was forwarded last night to the White House. It is expected the President, because of his well known peace views, will reply to the cordial sentiments of the ruler of the church. The letter follows:

"To our venerated brother, Diomedes, Titular Archbishop of Larissa, Apostolic Delegate to the United States of America:

"Venerable brother, health and apostolic benediction. We are happy to learn from you that in the United States of America under the leadership of men enjoying the highest authority with the people, the more judicious members of the community are fervently desirous of attaining the advantages of international peace. To compose differences, to restrain the outbreaks of hostilities, to prevent the dangers of war, to remove even the anxieties of so-called armed peace, is indeed most praiseworthy, and any effort in this cause, even although it may not immediately wholly accomplish its purpose, manifests, nevertheless, a zeal which cannot but redound to the credit of its authors and be of benefit to the State.

HEARTILY COMMENDS WORK.

"This is especially true at the present day when vast armies, instrumentalities most destructive to human life, and the advanced state of military science portend to the most powerful rulers. Wherefore, we most heartily commend the work already begun which should be approved by all good men, and especially by us holding, as we do, the supreme pontificate of the church, and representing Him who is both the God and Prince of Peace; and we most gladly lend the weight of our authority to those who are striving to realize this most beneficent purpose.

"For we do not doubt that the same distinguished men who possess so much ability and such wisdom in affairs of State will construct in behalf of a struggling age a royal road for the nations leading to peace and conciliation in accordance with the laws of justice and charity, which should be sacredly observed by all. For inasmuch as peace consists in order, who will vainly think that it can be established unless he strive with all the force within him that due respect be everywhere given to those virtues which are the principles of order and its firmest foundation?

"As for the remaining aspects of the matter, we call to mind the example of our illustrious predecessors, who, when the condition of the times permitted, rendered in this very matter also the most signal service to the cause of humanity and to the stability of governments; but since the present age allows us to aid in this cause only by pious prayers to God, we therefore most earnestly pray God, who knows the hearts of men, and inclines them as He wills, that He may be gracious to those who are furthering peace among the people and may grant to the nations, which with united purpose are laboring to this end, and that the destruction of war and its disaster being averted, they must at length find repose in the beauty of peace.

"As a pledge of divine favor, and as proof of our benevolence, we most lovingly grant you, benevolent brother, the apostolic benediction.

"Given at Rome, at St. Peter's, the 11th day of June, 1911, and the 8th year of our pontificate.

(Signed) "PIUS X."

The letter, it is understood, was inspired by the recent jubilee at Baltimore when Cardinal Gibbons celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. On that occasion many of the speakers dwelt enthusiastically on the growth of the peace sentiment, President Taft being among those who lent their hearty endorsement.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, addressed the State school superintendents yesterday on the "Peace Movement."

Jordan advised the superintendents to place the unvarnished facts before the children regarding the study of history. He deprecated telling children of wars in which this or other countries had been victorious. He said that few of them could be justified or were creditable. Dr. Jordan said:

"If history teaches lessons they should be true lessons. We should take unreasoning anger out of our wars.

"Early in the history of this and other countries go into the war fund. Practically nothing is done with the money taken from the people except the building of war vessels and paying for armies.

ARMAMENT TRUST BLAMED.

"Today we are paying $73 of every $100 raised by tax for war. We want to look into these things.

"The armament trust is the greatest trust of them all. It keeps up the agitation among nations and makes each try to outdo the other in building bigger ships and massing greater armies.

"The world is loaded down with war debts. Twenty-six thousand millions of war debt is owed by the nations of Europe. And they are paying $1,150,000,000 of interest on it annually.

"England, with all its wealth, is making no progress in the payment of its national debt.

"Our own war debt is not so large. By subscribing $10 apiece the people of this country could wipe out the $1,000,000,000 we owe.

"We also owe the Rothschilds $100,000,000. I now offer to subscribe $1.50 to help pay this debt, so that we can get out from under it.

"We must start a propaganda to tell the truth about these things. Much has been done in this direction by the Carnegie and other funds that have been subscribed toward universal peace."

WAR IS DECLARED ON GRASSHOPPER

Kansas Farmers and Railroads Unite in Extermination of the Pest.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 6.—A war on grasshoppers has been started in Western Kansas. The ravages of the insects, especially in the alfalfa fields, have caused the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad to inaugurate a campaign of extermination along its line.

H. O. Marsh of the government bureau of entomology, is conducting the extermination work among the farmers and is helping the railroads. A poison composed of bran, white arsenic, salt and molasses is being spread all over the grass and other vegetation along the right of way. The grasshoppers are said to eat the poison readily and it causes death in a few minutes.

Governor Stubbs has been asked to aid the people in several counties in obtaining the poison necessary for the preparation. One Scott county ranchman has bought three hundred turkeys to wage war on the grasshoppers.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fevers, malaria, and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy vigorous health, and new strength they'll give you. Money back if not satisfied. Only 50c at Osgood Bros.

SEEK PENNY POSTAGE.
MELBOURNE, July 6.—It was announced today that Commonwealth Postmaster General Jeremiah Thomas had communicated with the postal department at Washington, proposing reciprocal penny postage with the United States. The question of penny postage with the United States has been the subject of agitation since the discontinuance of the mail service between Australian ports and San Francisco.

A bilious, half-sick feeling, loss of energy, and constipated bowels can be relieved with surprising promptness by using HERBINE. The first dose brings improvement, a few doses puts the system in the most vigorous condition. Price 50c. Sold by Whistler's Drug Store, 1001 Washington street.

Our Agencies Dot the Earth

Schlitz was brewed first in a hut over sixty years ago. Now our output exceeds a million barrels a year. Our agencies dot the earth.

More and more people every year are demanding Schlitz—Schlitz in Brown Bottles.

In our brewery we spend more on purity—in time—in skill—in money—than on any other cost in our brewing.

We scald every tub, keg and barrel—every pipe and pump—every time we use it. We wash every bottle four times by machinery. Even the air, in which the beer is cooled, is filtered.

If you knew what we know about beer, you would say, "Schlitz—Schlitz in Brown Bottles."

The Realty Syndicate is an old, established institution

The average investor is rightfully timid about his investments.

His money represents too much hard work and self-denial to be placed for investment without the assurance of absolute safety.

Therefore, the hope of unusual returns should be eliminated from consideration.

Anything promising much over 6% is necessarily a speculation, because, if it were a safe investment the borrower would not have to pay over 6%.

It is to the people who want an investment and not a speculation that we are addressing these announcements.

A good investment is one that will yield a sure safe and regular return without further effort on the part of the investor.

High class railroad bonds, dividend-paying preferred industrials, well managed bank stocks, public service corporation bonds and selected municipal bonds are usually all good investments.

In this class comes "Syndicate Sixes", the 6% Investment Certificates of the Realty Syndicate of Oakland, California.

In some respects "Syndicate Sixes" are better even than preferred industrials because our assets consist of real estate, and our revenue is dependant chiefly upon physical value plus our corporate earning power instead of corporate earning power alone.

Strikes, legislation, panics, market manipulation, etc., effect land values but slightly, as has been amply exemplified by all past history. On the other hand, stocks frequently drop 20 or 30 points in a single day.

Business men, in close touch with the market, frequently find it profitable, however, to invest certain sums in speculative enterprises, but almost invariably you will find these same men "tucking away" their larger amounts in some sure, safe 5% or 6% investment.

If you have money, which you would like to invest and put to work at 6% per annum, (payable semi-annually by check, mailed promptly upon the day due) let us know the amount and the length of time you wish to leave it with us, and we will immediately forward particulars.

The Realty Syndicate is an old, established institution with thousands of clients, some of whom have done business with the corporation for 15 or 16 years.

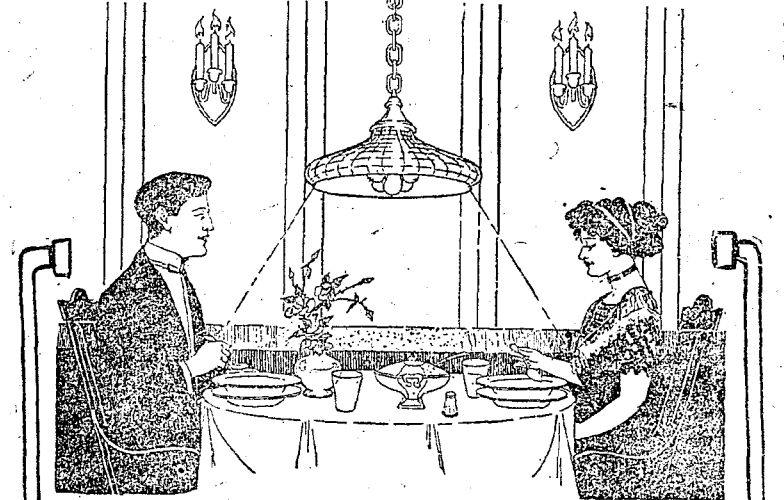

Your money will be safe with us, and as a client of the corporation you will find us helpful and glad to consult with you in any of your business perplexities.

You deal directly with the principals, who are responsible, established, successful people, comprising a great institution—The Realty Syndicate.

S. P. EASTMAN TELLS OF PART HE TOOK IN LAYING THE TRAP TO CAPTURE DALTON

"I Believe I Was Doing My Duty as a Citizen in Exposing Corruption," Says Spring Valley Official When Called "Informer" and "Spy"

ing made against the reduction of the assessment, would not be able to render any save a favorable opinion in the matter.

The attorney for the defense then brought in the question of President Bourn's knowledge of the case and especially as to his whereabouts at the present time.

"Had Bourn," asked Fairall, "left this state when the matter of trapping the defendant was decided upon?"

"Mr. Bourn," said Eastman, "had very important business in New York and stated that he would have to leave California and this was before the proposition of Dalton was made. He had already bought his tickets and secured his reservation."

"The matter was placed in your hands by Bourn?"

"The matter was not placed in my hands by Mr. Bourn. It came to me as the vice-president of the Spring Valley Water Company. When I read the affidavit of Behan, there was no question in my mind as to what should be done. Mr. Bourn did not want Behan to go into it as a representative of the company. If Behan went into it it was to be in his own accord. He was to go into it, not because he was connected with the company, but as a citizen."

"When did you make up your mind to go into the case?"

DONAHUE'S ADVICE.

"I made up my mind to go into the case when the district attorney called and informed us that Behan's affidavit contained the entire truth and when he stated that Dalton could have been convicted on a previous charge, but that there was lacking sufficient corroborative evidence. He said 'I cannot perform my duty to the people of Alameda county in this case unless I have the co-operation of your company.' I then determined to do all I could to assist the district attorney."

"The witness then stated that the matter was acted upon by the executive committee and that he had no doubt as to the action that would be taken by that body."

Fairall asked if the witness had not committed an offense.

Eastman admitted that he had and stated that he had done so on the statement made to him by Behan in whom he had the greatest confidence. Dalton had made an attempt to bribe him. Behan had told him the story and he believed Behan.

"The witness was asked if he considered the defendant had committed a crime. Eastman replied that he did not know how the act might be considered under the law, but that he had no doubt that a moral offense had been committed. 'Do you,' asked Fairall, 'consider it to be a moral offense to induce or solicit co-operation in the commission of a crime?'"

CRIME OR NO CRIME.

"I certainly do," said the witness, "when the intent is not criminal. 'Did you have any criminal intent when you passed this money?'"

"Certainly not."

"Did the district attorney tell you there was crime being committed when the money was passed?"

"No," he said, "it could not be considered as the case of an accomplice."

"Did he explain that it would be another crime on the part of the defendant if you succeeded in trapping him?"

"The witness then detailed the circumstances of the meeting between himself and Dalton at Barnum's when, he said, the money was passed by him to Dalton. He asked if he did not consider he had betrayed the defendant. He replied that he did not consider he had betrayed the defendant."

NO BETRAYAL, SAYS EASTMAN.

"I considered," Eastman said, "that Dalton had betrayed the people of Alameda county."

"You led him to believe," said Fairall, "that you were dealing with him in this matter, and yet you knew that he was being betrayed by detectives when you met him in San Francisco and in this city and yet you say you did not betray him?"

"I did not consider I had betrayed him. I had acted as I was instructed by the district attorney. He had been betrayed by the people of Alameda county. I cannot consider dishonesty as being betrayed."

The witness then told about going to the home of Attorney Olney, at the request of the district attorney, where he might later, be found by Donahue. He also stated that after reaching Olney's home the district attorney telephoned for him and he and Olney immediately went to Donahue's office.

Eastman was then excused, but was notified to be ready to answer to a telephone call in the event that his presence might again be required.

LAWRENCE TESTIFIES.

William P. Lawrence, superintendent of the Spring Valley Water Company, was the first witness this afternoon for the prosecution. He was examined by Assistant District Attorney Hynes.

He testified that Dalton had called him and stated that he (Dalton) desired to talk with him regarding the tax matters of the company. The meeting was held in Dalton's office in the court house in this city.

"Dalton told me," said Lawrence, "that he was going to increase the assessment of the water company in this county a million and a half dollars."

"And what did you say to that?" asked Hynes.

"I told him that I thought the assessment ought to be decreased a million and a half instead of being increased that amount."

Hynes then turned the witness over to Fairall for cross-examination.

The witness showed that he had been connected with the Spring Valley Water Company since 1884.

He told of a visit he had paid to Dalton's office in 1914. He could not say said, recall the details of conversation. He asked for a reduction of the assessment from the riparian rights of the company from three million dollars to $175,000.

"What argument did you make to Mr. Dalton to induce him to make the reduction?"

"I showed him the cost of the property."

"What was the cost of rights when they were secured?"

"About $250,000 had been paid for them."

"You wanted to have him assess the property at 60 per cent of its valuation twenty-three years before?"

"We wanted to have the riparian rights considered in the same manner as the improvements."

"What any increase in value of the property during those years?"

"I don't think there was."

"Didn't your company make an offer to sell the plant to San Francisco and included in it the increased valuation of the riparian rights on the creek?"

"The witness declared that when he left the conference with Dalton he made no provision for any subsequent meeting."

Eastman Tells of Three Meetings With Assessor

S. P. Eastman, one of the principal witnesses in the Dalton bribery case, told yesterday of the alleged passing of $5000 to Dalton by the main features of his testimony follows. Assistant District Attorney Hynes opening the questioning:

Q. About what time of day was it, if you remember, that you met the defendant at Jack's restaurant in San Francisco?

A. I met Mr. Dalton at 12:30 in Jack's restaurant.

Q. Jack's restaurant, to which you refer, was on Sacramento street in the city and county of San Francisco, number 515 on that street, was it?

A. That is correct.

Q. Do you remember the number of the room in which you and Mr. Dalton met?

A. I believe it was room No. 6.

Q. What was the order of your arrival at the restaurant?

A. I arrived at Jack's restaurant first. After remaining there in the room a few minutes, Mr. Dalton came.

Q. What room did you go to?

A. Room No. 6. And after waiting there a few minutes Mr. Behan came in and introduced Mr. Dalton.

Q. He brought Mr. Dalton with him?

A. Yes, he brought Mr. Dalton with him.

Q. Tell the jury what transpired when Mr. Behan brought Mr. Dalton into the room.

A. Mr. Behan introduced me to Mr. Dalton. I asked Mr. Behan if he had lunch and he said "No" and I suggested that he remain there with us.

Mr. Fairall. Just a moment. Let him be instructed not to say suggested, but to say what he said.

PROPOSITION OUTLINED.

A. The substance of the conversation was this: I asked Behan if he would sit down and have lunch with us. Mr. Dalton then said that we had better be left alone, referring to himself and myself. Behan then withdrew from the room. We sat down. Mr. Dalton and myself, and had lunch. I told Mr. Dalton that Behan had explained to me in a general way what Dalton had said to him in Oakland on March 30th, and I asked Mr. Dalton how he proposed to put his proposition through. He told me that he was satisfied of his ability to do it through, and that we must have confidence in each other in order to do it. He repeated to me the proposition which he had put to Behan on March 30th, namely that he proposed to reduce the assessment of the water company on riparian rights in Alameda county from three million dollars to five hundred thousand dollars, which would amount to a saving to the company of two and a half million dollars in assessments, and of that assessment would be half the taxes which would be saved the company, which would be in round numbers a saving of $500,000, of which his share would be $250,000.

Q. That is what he said to you?

A. That is what Dalton said to me.

Q. All right, go ahead.

A. I asked him again how he intended to put it through, how he intended to make it, and he said that he intended to make it by the use of his influence and that he might be in conflict with his contemplated action. He said that he didn't look for any emergencies to arise, that if anyone should protest before the board of equalization the board would refer the matter to him and take his recommendation. He said it had been his experience for a great many years that whenever the board asked him his recommendation when protests were brought before him, that they always took his recommendation, and he therefore didn't contemplate any difficulty so far as the board was concerned.

LETTER SUGGESTED.

I asked him if he knew of any other difficulty which might arise. He then explained to me that the district attorney of Alameda county was the legal adviser of the board, and that he had given the matter some thought, so far as the district attorney was concerned, and he thought it would be a very good thing to write the district attorney a letter stating that he had been looking over the assessments of the water company that he had made, and that they were too high in amount, and that the assessment on riparian rights to a certain extent were illegal, and that he would outline the letter to the district attorney in such a way as to make the district attorney endorsing your letter with it, and in my letter—that is Dalton's letter—he would ask the district attorney his legal opinion. He explained to me that it was altogether in the way the letter was framed, and he could so frame a letter that he could get the district attorney's favorable opinion, and he further explained that in that way no adverse action need be looked for from the district attorney, that he would be put out of the way.

I then suggested—I then stated that in making the reduction which he proposed in the assessments, that he make his return on the basis of a certain official valuation of our riparian rights, which was made by Engineer Dockweller, who is an assistant of the city attorney of San Francisco. Mr. Dockweller's valuation was $250,000. He discussed that for some time as being what we would use, and he said that he would make that his first payment, and he would figure that out later. I then said that we could not do anything more that day, and Mr. Dalton said "well, before we leave I want you to agree to write me the details of this thing through." He said, "We must meet as few times as possible," and he asked how I would make these payments to him of $25,000, for some time he demanded to know what his idea was of the payments, and he told me he ought to have $12,500 then and $12,500 when he had made his return to the board of equalization. I told him his first payment was also too high, that some contingency might arise and he should protect me in the amount of the first payment, the district attorney having previously requested that arrangement for the smallest payment possible.

FAIRALL'S PROTESTS.

Mr. Fairall. Now—

The Court. Did you state that in your conversation about the district attorney?

A. I didn't state that to Mr. Dalton.

Mr. Fairall. We move to strike it out. The Court. That part may be stricken out.

Mr. Hynes. I will ask you this question:

Q. You had instructions from the district attorney as to the payment of the amount—never mind, let the matter go. Mr. Dalton said that he would make the first payment $7500 and the second payment $5000, which was to be paid when his roll had been turned in to the board of equalization. He explained that he would make a protest could not be considered by the board for action unless it had received five days' notice before action was taken by them, that therefore during the five days of their session they might not act on a protest. I asked him if he would not reverse the order of his first two payments, that something might happen, and he told me that I would have to accept his terms. After some talk about the terms I said "all right."

He then wanted to know where we would meet to make the first payment, and when it would be made. He said he would have to have it made within a week. I told him that I would go to him at the end of the week, and I stated that I had to go to Sunol the end of the coming week, and the payment might be made there. He explained that Sunol was not a good place, that we might be seen together in that part of the county by people who lived there, and therefore would be interested in the assessment of the property of the water company. I then stated we might meet there at night. Mr. Dalton said "I wouldn't do to go down there at night because he was not accustomed to traveling in the southern part of the county at night, and if people should see him down there he knew that I would attract their attention." I then said that I would pass through Oakland on my way to Sunol and asked him to name a place to meet. He said that was satisfactory, and he said "Will you call me up the day before you go down there, about Thursday of next week, and call me at my home, and I will be there at the time I say generally in my office, and we will name the hour. We will meet in Barnum's restaurant in the court yard in the rear, and will step into a room where the payment is to be made. I said "All right," and I then left Jack's restaurant and returned to my office.

MEETING AT BARNUM'S.

Concerning the meeting in Barnum's restaurant in this city, Eastman, in reply to a question from Hynes, said:

I arrived at Fourteenth and Broadway about half past 2, and proceeded up Broadway to about Twenty-fourth or Twenty-fifth street, turned around and came down Broadway to Seventh street. I left my car on the northwest corner of Seventh street, got out of it and proceeded across the street to the east side and walked across Seventh street and into Barnum's restaurant.

Q. By which door did you go into Barnum's restaurant?

A. I entered the restaurant at the corner door, that is at the southeast corner of Seventh and Broadway.

Q. Did you observe the time?

A. The time was 3 o'clock, or a few minutes before 3.

Q. Where did you go when you went into the restaurant?

A. I proceeded through the main dining room, through the kitchen, turned to my right in a small hallway and entered a room which had a lattice doorway.

Q. And did you subsequently see Mr. Dalton on that day?

A. A few minutes after my entering the room Mr. Dalton came in, having been ushered in by a waiter, closed the door after him and sat down opposite me.

Q. What time did that room after Mr. Dalton came in and sat down after you?

A. After Mr. Dalton had sat down after me, I asked him if he had received a letter from the district attorney in that letter. He said no, he had not, and produced from his pocket the original of the letter I had written him a few days previous.

Q. We drew that letter from his pocket. What happened then?

A. He put that letter down on the table and said that he had not been to the district attorney because I had not framed my letter right. He said that I had to frame it in a certain way in that letter. He said that if he went to the district attorney with that letter he would be playing into his hands, and he could not do it.

Q. Playing into whose hands?

A. Into the hands of Mr. Donahue.

Q. Now, was there anything said at that meeting at Barnum's restaurant as to when you should meet again, if you were to meet?

A. Dalton said that he was about to leave town for two weeks, and would be back on the first of July. He said that he would have the second payment made to him. And he said "The third payment will be made as we had arranged for it, on the first of the session of the board of equalization."

SAYS HE GAVE MONEY.

Q. What did you do after that if anything? What next happened?

A. After that I had the $5000 in bank notes, that you showed me today. This currency, exhibit "D," $5000, I have shown you today?

A. I handed him that $5000. I told him that there were $5000 there made up in five bundles of $1000 each. He said that that was all right. I stood up and said then I would leave first. He said that was all right, and left the restaurant.

Q. What was the condition of the money that you handed him, as compared to the bills I mean, as to not having a rubber band around, as to not being covered with anything else, being open to his eyes?

A. As I handed the money it was made up in five individual packages of $1000 each, and had a rubber band around the five packages.

Q. It was in that shape was it?

A. Yes.

Q. That is, the bills were exposed?

A. Yes.

Q. You left the restaurant. When you went out of this lattice door at Barnum's restaurant, did you see anybody that you knew?

A. When I left the room, went through the lattice door into the corridor, I saw Mr. Helms sitting almost opposite this door with two other people at a table apparently having lunch. I signaled to Mr. Helms.

HELMS NODS.

Q. What did you do?

A. I took my hat off, put a white handkerchief to my forehead, as had been arranged, and went to the district attorney. Mr. Helms looked at me and nodded, proceeded through the kitchen, as I had come in, through the main dining room, and went out the corner door of the door which I have spoken of, and went on to the street, Seventh and Broadway.

Q. Wiping your head with a handkerchief would indicate what, if anything?

A. That was to indicate that Dalton had taken the $5000, which he had asked for.

Q. Now, when you went into the restaurant, I will ask you to state whether or not you saw anybody in the box office at that time?

A. As I went into the restaurant I saw two people in the box I have spoken of. Q. Were they male or female?

A. A man and a woman.

Q. When you saw Mr. Helms there in addition, was he?

A. Mr. Helms was there in addition when I came out.

Q. When you went on the sidewalk, what if anything did you do?

A. When I went out on the sidewalk, I gave the same signal, by taking my hat off and putting a white handkerchief to my forehead, which had been outlined for me by the district attorney. I stood there a minute and then I went diagonally across the street and gave the signal again. Then got into my car and turned around and went up Broadway.

Did you say anything to Mr. Dalton at the time you were leaving the restaurant about your going out first?

A. I told him that I had left my car out in front, I had better leave first and get away from the car, and I said "all right, I will give you plenty of time to leave."

Under cross-examination by Attorney Fairall, Eastman said that the plan to trap Dalton was laid by District Attorney Donahue. Fairall asked:

Q. Who asked you to participate in this transaction?

A. The District Attorney of Alameda county.

Q. Anyone else?

A. No one else.

Q. Suppose your purpose in going into this plan was like that of Mr. Behan, a purpose to do your duty as a citizen?

A. No other motive or purpose in it.

Q. No other purpose whatever.

Q. You were not acting in behalf of the Spring Valley Water Company, or for its advancement?

A. Not at all.

Q. You did not at any time consider the interest of the Spring Valley Water Company in this connection?

A. They were absolutely not considered.

Q. You, I believe, graduated from the University of the State of California?

A. I went to the University of California for four years, and I left there just before the time of graduating.

Q. Have you ever had any previous experience in matters of this kind?

Mr. Hynes. Just a moment. What kind? I object to the question as indefinite and too general.

Q. What kind of a question is it? I don't understand the question. I will make it more definite. Had you ever had any previous experience with bribe giving, or the offer of bribes, or the passing of money in the name of bribery?

A. I never worked for an employer who ever suggested or intimated that kind of business, and I never met a public official who had thrust me into that position.

Q. You had not been thrust into that position. As I understand when you entered on this proposition, you had never seen Mr. Dalton, had never talked with him.

A. I was not thrust into the position until later.

Q. Who thrust you into that position?

A. Mr. Dalton.

Q. But you had not seen him?

A. The events which would follow were only the natural sequence of the conditions which he created.

Q. Is that the only answer you have to make to the question?

Mr. Hynes. That is an answer, if the court please.

Mr. Fairall. I asked him if that is all the answer, and he said it was.

DENIES INTENT TO BRIBE.

Q. At the time you went into this transaction, did you intend to bribe the assessor of Alameda county?

A. I did not. I intended to follow out the specific instructions of the district attorney, in behalf of the people he represented, in order to secure evidence which would be in writing, in a letter, that unless he had the co-operation of the water company in this matter the people he represented would be helpless to combat this action, this attitude on the part of the assessor.

Q. Then your purpose in going into it was to supply evidence against Mr. Dalton?

A. My purpose in going into this was to assist the district attorney in what he conceived to be his duty.

Q. I understood you to say to supply evidence?

A. An assistance which I might render him, as he stated to me, in the endeavor to get evidence for him, that he might prosecute the case.

Mr. Hynes. I call your honor's attention to the fact that the witness in this case answered said "corroborative evidence."

Mr. Fairall. It was then your purpose to supply corroborative evidence for this transaction?

A. So far as I was directed to do so by the district attorney.

Q. And you, a college man, so recently graduated from college, or recently leaving college, the vice-president of the Spring Valley Water Company, and general manager, entered into an agreement to become a spy, an informer, for the purpose of following an officer of Alameda county, to secure a proposition from him looking toward bribery, and pretending to carry out that plan, then intending all the time to come before a court and testify as an informer against him. Is that it?

Mr. Hynes. Just a minute. I object to the question as immaterial and not pertinent.

The Court. You may answer the question.

MY DUTY, SAYS EASTMAN.

A. As a college man, and as vice-president of the Spring Valley Water Company I was desirous of doing what I conceived to be my duty, as a citizen, what I learned in college, so far as that is concerned, to be my duty.

Q. Did they teach you in the colleges where you attended that it was the duty of a citizen to become a spy and informer?

A. They taught their students to take a manly stand in anything that concerned the public. And—

Q. You—

Mr. Hynes. Let him finish the answer.

A. When they could assist the citizen in any manner which was correct, it was the duty of any man to do his part, however unpleasant or disagreeable it might be to set right before the citizens of any community, the situation which was correct.

Q. Did you consider it manly—you used that word—to do the acts which you have related on the stand here?

A. I considered it manly to do the acts which the district attorney asked me to do, and which in his behalf, for the people, I did do.

Q. Mr. Eastman, at the first interview that you had with Mr. Dalton, how was it brought about?

A. The first interview I had with Mr. Dalton was brought about by the request of the district attorney of Alameda county.

Q. Did Mr. Dalton personally seek an interview with you?

A. No, he did not.

Q. I said personally.

A. To me?

A. Yes.

Q. All that you know of the purpose of Mr. Dalton was communicated to you by Mr. Behan as to that?

A. That is the fact.

Q. What Mr. Behan had said to Mr. Dalton, or what Dalton had said to Mr. Behan in relation to the fixing of the reduction, you were wholly ignorant, except as what Mr. Behan told you?

A. That is true.

Q. Did you attempt to verify it at all?

A. The fixing of the appointment?

A. Yes.

CARRY OUT APPOINTMENT.

Q. Only that in that the appointment was fulfilled by myself and by Mr. Dalton by appointment?

Q. Did you ring Mr. Dalton up or did he ring you up before the appointment?

A. I did not.

Q. You did not know what you were brought in for except as related to you by Mr. Behan?

A. That is true, and what was directed to me by the district attorney.

NO TRAP, SAYS EASTMAN.

Concerning the first meeting at Jack's restaurant between Dalton and Eastman, Fairall asked:

Q. That Mr. Helms, that you speak of, the detective, was not under any of the tables or anything of that kind at that time?

CASE OPENS WITH A COUP

Defense Springs Surprise in the Times Dynamiting Trial

Law Point Involved Causes the Prosecution Considerable Concern

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—The defense in the McNamara dynamite explosion case sprung a surprise today when John J. McNamara, the accused Indiana labor leader, and his brother James were called into Judge Fordwell's department of the Superior Court.

Both men were summoned to plead to nineteen charges of murder, to plead to the destruction of the Times newspaper plant on October 1, 1910. In addition John J. was expected to plead to the charge that he had conspired to destroy the Llewellyn Iron Works. But instead he entered a plea "to jurisdiction," claiming that the court had no right to try him in the case of the dynamite charges of murder or the Llewellyn Iron Works case because he was extradited from Indiana, not for murder, but for alleged dynamiting.

This move plainly surprised the prosecution, although it had expected the defense to make a motion to quash the indictments made by the defense.

ALLEGATIONS MADE.

The motion for the quashing of the indictment was made only in the case of James B. McNamara, who entered no plea whatever, holding that the indictments against him should not stand because the grand jury was biased, and because Earl Rogers, who acted as a special district attorney to aid the inquiry during the investigation, had previously been active on behalf of the Times and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association during the search for evidence.

Deputy District Attorney W. J. Ford, who was acting for the prosecution when the McNamara appeared in court, met the sudden move of the defense with a motion to dismiss the plea to jurisdiction.

Clarence Darrow, Joseph Scott, Leona Davis and former Judge Cyrus McNutt were all in court representing the defense, and a long argument ensued over the plea to jurisdiction. The argument promises to continue until night.

Nineteen times—the number corresponding to the number of deaths caused by the disaster to the newspaper plant—the brothers were asked to enter their pleas. At the time the defense filed a plea to jurisdiction in the case of John J. and a motion to quash in that of James B. McNamara.

The plea to jurisdiction argued that the Los Angeles court was without jurisdiction to try John J. McNamara for murder when he was extradited in connection with the Times' disaster, but with the dynamite explosion of the Llewellyn Iron Works early the morning of last Christmas. It was declared that the man could not be tried here upon any charge except that upon which he was extradited. But when the man was asked to plead to the Llewellyn Iron Works' accusation his attorney refused to do so.

AS MANY MOTIONS MADE.

To the nineteen charges of murder against James B. McNamara as many motions to quash the indictments were filed. The quashing was asked on thirty-five grounds, many technical and relating to alleged violations of the rules of court in returning the indictments, alleged bias on the part of the jury, malice on the part of parties specifically named; the presence of Rogers as special prosecutor in charge of the grand jury investigation; that Rogers was permitted by the grand jurors to discuss the case and influence some of the jurors; and to introduce some of the personal and intimate life of the accused. The grand jury, it was alleged, was biased because of the presence of Rogers as special prosecutor in charge of the grand jury investigation; that Rogers was permitted by the grand jurors to discuss the case and influence some of the jurors; and to introduce some of the personal and intimate life of the accused.

DEMANDS OF DEFENSE.

It also was asked that the defense be permitted to examine the jurors as to the manner in which they found the indictments and their state of mind when they did so. Supplementary affidavits were filed by John J. and James B. McNamara.

If the plea of jurisdiction entered in the case of John J. McNamara should fail of its purpose, another motion to quash the indictment would be filed in his case also.

Pollack, the attorney for the defense, said that the defense would move to quash the indictment on the ground that the grand jury was biased and malice on the part of the grand jurors. He also asked the court not to consider the motions because of possible inadmissibility of the evidence on the hearing on the plea.

FORD MAKES STATEMENT.

W. J. Ford, assistant district attorney, said that the defense's attack on the alleged illegal manner in which the McNamara case was brought to California would not be argued in the court. He said that he was basing upon the facts of the case and that he would not be arguing the case. He said that he would not be arguing the case.

The court room was crowded when the McNamara case was called upon. Several of persons filled the corridor outside and a heavy wooden bar was placed across the door to keep the throng from entering.

Deputy sheriffs, constables and detectives were present in large numbers. Keeping sharp watch among the crowd. Men were seated on the courtroom and some stood on chairs out in the halls to catch a glimpse of the prisoners.

TEMPORAL ALARMS GUESTS.

ELLENBURG, Wash., July 6.—An earthquake shock was felt here Tuesday at midnight severely enough to alarm guests in hotels. People in Ellensburg and the surrounding country were awakened by the shock.

GOVERNMENT TO RENEW FIGHT ON COAL CARRIERS

Effort to Be Made by Attorney-General to Break Railroad Control of Output of Anthracite Fields

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The government will renew the fight to dissolve the great coal carrying railroads from their virtual control of mines and thus vitalize the commodities clause of the interstate commerce law. A test case against the Lehigh Valley Railroad will be filed today in the United States Court in Philadelphia.

That the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, Cox's Brothers, Inc., the New York and Middlesex Railroad and Coal Company and the Lehigh Valley Coal Company and Iron Company are not bona fide coal companies but merely adjuncts to the Lehigh Valley railroad and "devices for evading the commodities clause" is the government's principal complaint. It is also alleged that the Lehigh Valley, with the object of removing competition, has caused the Lehigh Valley Coal Company to contract at a loss for the output of other anthracite operators, has transported the coal over its own lines and through the coal company has fixed the price in New York and other markets.

PROFIT IN FREIGHT.

The government charges that although the buying of coal from other operators has been done at a loss to the coal company, it had enabled the Lehigh Valley railroad to transport the coal over its lines and profit from freight charges.

To support its claim that the coal company is merely the "dummy," the government cites that the officers of the railroad and the coal company are the same and that certain members of the directorate and executive committee of the railroad are members of the directorate and executive committee of the coal companies.

Among those named are: Eben B. Thomas, George F. Baker, E. T. Stotesbury and James A. Middleton.

The government's complaint says that since the capital stock of the coal company has been owned by the railroad and paid no dividends, that millions of dollars have been advanced by the railroad company

JOHN MURRAY IS MADE CORPORAL

Chief Wilson's Report Shows That 399 Places in City Serve Liquor.

An ordinance was introduced at the meeting of the city council this morning creating the position of corporal in the police department to make provision for the court officer, John Murray, who will be appointed to this place. The position was created in conformity with the provisions of the charter. Murray has been commended with honor for his efficient employment in summoning venues for the jury, serving subpoenas, etc.

Chief of Police Adelbert Wilson submitted a report this morning of all places serving liquor in the city of Oakland, with their names and the class of license. There are 399 such places, according to the report.

Permission was granted the Barber Asphalt Company to pave for the Western Pacific Railroad Company the junctions of the railroad at and with Broadway and Third street and East Twelfth street and Twenty-third avenue.

17-YEAR-OLD GIRL MISSING

Police Are Asked to Assist in the Search for Miss Myrel Jones.

Request has been made of the police to assist in locating Miss Myrel Jones, aged 17 years, who left her home at 525 Broadway street, and has not been seen by her relatives since. The girl is believed to be living in Oakland or Berkeley, as she has been receiving mail through the general delivery here.

Florence Netzel, who was employed in a private family, is also reported missing. She has been paid for a baby with her, but it is believed she is among friends.

The San Francisco police have asked the departments of the bay cities to look for E. C. Bennett, an inmate of the Southern Pacific railroad hospital at San Francisco, who left the hospital July 4 and has not been seen since.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER

J. Whitley, Who Killed Mrs. D. A. Bartley, to Hear Sentence July 10.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Joseph Whitley, who shot and killed Mrs. D. A. Bartley of the Hotel Drake on September 1, was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter by the district attorney this morning because of the extenuating circumstances connected with the case. Whitley will be sentenced on July 10.

OIL CO. TO BUILD WHARF AT MARTINEZ

MARTINEZ, July 6.—The Dutch Oil Company yesterday received permission from Mayor McNamara to start work on a new wharf which will be 300 feet in length and will cost $14,000. The company is a corporation having working interests throughout the country and is one of the largest concerns in the local oil field. The company has been granted permission to close the roads and highways running through the tract, covering 150 acres, a portion of which lies outside the city limits.

HELEN JOHNSON WINS PRIZE IN BEAUTY CONTEST

LITTLE HELEN JOHNSON, who took first prize in the beauty contest for babies one to three years old at the Fourth of July celebration under the auspices of the Garfield School Mothers' Club.

One of the most interesting features of the Fourth of July celebration at the Garfield school was the beauty contest for babies. Hosts of attractive girls and boys entered for prizes, which were provided by the merchants of East Oakland.

After some consideration the judges presented the first award to Helen Johnson, a three-year-old baby, who was much admired by the patrons of the contest. She smiled and gracefully bowed when a box of candy was given her by one of the members of the committee of judges, composed of T. H. Hagaman, Mrs. I. M. Sterling, Mrs. Aaron Turner and A. Wagle.

SCHOOL BOARD TO BE ORGANIZED

Members of New City Commission to Draw Lots for Terms.

The members of the new board of education, who assumed their duties under the new charter last Saturday morning, will organize this evening in the rooms of the board of education in the city hall annex. Seventeen and Broadway. The directors, who were elected at the last city election, will draw lots tonight for the long and short terms and will also appoint a chairman.

It has been rumored that Calvin M. Orr will preside at the sessions of the board. John Forrest, commissioner of finance and revenue, will be an ex-officio member of the board.

The board of education commissioners are Miss Annie Florence Brown, Harry Borie, F. B. Cook, Calvin M. Orr, M. R. Bronner and Dr. A. S. Kelly.

OLD BOARD RETIRES.

The old board composed of eleven members, who held office four years, retired last Friday evening when A. L. Hannaford, who has been president of the board for the past two years, read a report in which he related the progress in the various departments in the local schools. On behalf of the board he extended a welcome to the new commissioners.

Three of the members of the board were re-elected by the people. They are Dr. A. S. Kelly, Calvin M. Orr and F. B. Cook.

The personnel of the board besides the latter included E. P. Crandall, W. Evans, Dr. M. Emerson, Charles H. O'Connor, Samuel Wentworth, Leo R. Well and Dr. J. B. Wood.

The selection of a site for the new Manual Training and Commercial high school will be among the important problems to be settled by the new board. There are two lots upon which the board has an option, one in East Oakland and the other in the northern part of this city.

ENDORSE WATER COMMISSIONERS

New City Councilmen Approve of Appointments by the Old Board.

A resolution was introduced into the city council this morning by Commissioner William W. Bacon, ratifying the action of the old city council in creating a municipal water supply commission and appointing its members.

The resolution confirmed and approved the action of the old council and the appointment of Ben H. Pendleton, president of the former city council, George W. Dornan and W. T. Vetter as the personnel of the municipal water committee.

MARTINEZ RECORDER HAS BUSY SIX MONTHS

MARTINEZ, July 6.—County Recorder M. H. Hurley has just filed his annual report with the board of supervisors, which report shows that the six months ending with the close of the fiscal year on June 30 were the busiest his office ever experienced. There were 3,140 instruments filed during that period, and a total of $4724.75 was collected in fees.

REGAL COMPANY TO TURN OUT A "35" CAR

Zingel Closes Racing Contract With Blue Flying Squadron People.

(By J. A. HOULIHAN.)

The Regal Motor Car Company, makers of the well-known line of popular-priced cars bearing that name, are out with the announcement that in addition to their present line—a "20," "30" and "40"—they will, for the coming season, produce a 35 h. p. car of understating frame construction, the first car ever turned out at a popular price by any manufacturer in the country.

To the uninitiated this statement does not convey much information. To the motor-wise folk it will at least create a desire to await the coming of the first model of this latest creation—there being among these folk set ideas of their own as to the proper methods of constructing automobiles of any price.

Manufacturers who have adopted the underslung style of construction claim it to be the only correct type of automobile construction, one of their claims being that the element of safety is obtained by lowering the center of gravity, as in so doing the weight of the car and its occupants is hung below the axle center and the element of danger from overturning is eliminated entirely. Another feature claimed for the underslung car is that the road clearance is uniform—in the new Regal model it is 10 inches, a maximum which is not obtained in many cars.

A ROOMY CAR.

The Regal "35" is a big, roomy, luxuriously finished, five passenger touring car. A general description of its specifications will serve to give the clearest idea as to its size, etc. The motor is rated at 35 h. p., its cylinders are cast in pairs—its bore is 4 1/2 inches and stroke 4 1/4 inches. The valve heads are 2 inches in diameter. In a dust, oil and noise proof case, which is easily removed, the valve springs, lifts and guides are enclosed. The clutch is of the flexible cone type with leather facing.

The transmission, which is selective type, three speeds ahead and one reverse, is housed as a unit with the differential housing, forming a unit of two separate mechanisms. The axle is a semi-floating type and is fitted with Hyatt roller bearings. Other specifications of note are: Semi-elliptic front and rear springs, irreversible worm and sector steering gear, wheel base, 118 inches. The wheels are of the artillery type and are 34 x 4 inches.

The Regal "20" line has been further increased by the addition of what is known as the Colonial coupe. Cuts received of it show this latest model to be one of the finest works of craftsmanship ever seen in an automobile.

PREMIERS EN ROUTE HERE.

The twelve Premier cars, driven by owners, which are en route to the Pacific coast, are making splendid progress according to information which Charles Davis, the Premier factory representative, and the Carter Car Company, the Premier agents, are receiving. The following wire best explains the nature of the journey which has been undertaken:

"Amid great excitement, twelve Premier cars, with their wheels literally in the Atlantic ocean, started Monday morning on their oceanic journey. The following wire best explains the nature of the journey which has been undertaken:

"These tourists are all men of wealth and ease, who are accustomed to accomplishing what they undertake, and have shown their pluck and nerve, as well as their confidence in their cars. This trip will be a party with more than one car has ever attempted to cross the continent. (Signed)

ZENGEL DRIVING A NATIONAL.

Len Zengel, winner of the Fairmont Park road race, and reserve driver on the Blue Flying Squadron, has made a permanent connection with the National company. Zengel will be seen at the wheel of the big blue car in all of the principal events on the motor calendar.

Zengel will appear in the Brighton Beach races on the 8th and 9th of July. There will be three Nationals entered, if the track is in good condition, two stock "40's" and one of the big "Bear Catcher Four's." One of the stock cars counterpart of the world's record holder will be piloted by E. B. Zook, the wealthy tobacco manufacturer of Lancaster, Pa.

Zook has demonstrated his mettle in a number of races in the West and is expected to make a good showing. Zengel, from his previous record with other high-powered American cars and with National cars on the Indianapolis motor speedway, has demonstrated his ability to hold the big blue speed creations at the required pace. Zengel is now in New York looking over the track and making arrangements for this event.

Prior to the Brighton Beach races he will drive in the Ossining hill climb.

MEET FOR LAST SERVICE

Mrs. G. F. Williams Is Laid to Rest From Trinity Episcopal Church.

REV. JOHN BAKEWELL CONDUCTS CEREMONY

Great Masses of Flowers Surround Casket of Former Oakland Belle.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Gardner F. Williams, who met her death in the wreck of the steamship Spokane in Seymour Narrows, British Columbia, June 29, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Trinity Episcopal church, corner Twenty-ninth street and Telegraph avenue. The services were conducted by the Rev. John Bakewell. A large number of friends gathered to hear the last rites.

Floral offerings in large numbers banked the casket and occupied every available space surrounding. Wreaths, set pieces and sprays of the season's blossoms testified to the esteem in which Mrs. Williams was held and of her large circle of acquaintances. Garlands of roses and of violets, lilies and carnations, with greens of every description, were in evidence. They spoke the sympathy of sorrowing friends, over whom the suddenness of her death while on a pleasure cruise, has cast a mantle of grief.

PROMINENTLY KNOWN.

As Miss Fannie Locke she occupied a conspicuous place in the social circles of this city nearly thirty years ago. Since her marriage to Gardner F. Williams, a well-known mining man of South Africa and Washington, D. C., most of her time had been spent away from Oakland. The voyage which terminated with fatal results had been planned in company with relatives residing here and her two daughters, Dorothy Williams and Miss Gertrude Williams. The decedent was related by marriage to a number of prominent Oakland and San Francisco families, among them being Mrs. Thomas Meln of Jackson and Lake streets, a well-known being, and a friend before the party left for the north to take the steamer to Alaska.

Following the services the remains were taken to Mountain View cemetery, where interment was conducted privately. The pallbearers were: Francis Jennings of Washington, D. C., George E. de Golla and William Rabe of this city, cousins of Mrs. Williams; John R. Glascock, former mayor of Oakland; Alfred Eastland and Clinton Day.

Mrs. Williams is survived by her husband, Gardner F. Williams, a son, Alpheus Fuller Williams and Gertrude and Dorothy Williams. She was a native of New York.

FLORAL TRIBUTES.

Roses, orchids, lilies-of-the-valley, sweet peas and wreaths of every description formed a most elaborate display in the Trinity Church this afternoon. Among those who contributed were the following: Sprays and wreaths of various blooms—Mrs. David Gage, Mrs. W. H. Rabe, Mrs. Robert M. Meln, Mrs. Thomas Meln, Mrs. Baber, Miss Bacon, Mrs. Beach Soule, Mrs. Sherrard, Joanna D. Perkins, Miss Davis, Mrs. Miriam, Sam Bell McKee, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Alkita Talbot, Mrs. George E. Browne, T. C. Van Ness Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Grunsky, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Van Ness, Mrs. E. Clement, Frank McC. Van Ness, Reed Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Dixwell Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Hennen Jennings, Mrs. R. N. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William Denman, Frank Ruggles, Mabel Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. William Lettis Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Eastland, Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Lukens, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Taylor of Dedham, Mass., T. C. Kimberly, South Africa, Herbert F. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Bates, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George de Golla, Mr. and Mrs. Horace L. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. George de Golla.

INSURGENT SENATOR DECLARES AMERICAN FARMER WOULD BE THE LOSER.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—An attack on the Canadian reciprocity bill of the ground that it surrenders the market of the American farmer without any recompense, that he agreement was a usurpation of authority by the President and that the bill should have originated in the House of Representatives as a revenue measure, was made in the Senate today by Senator Gronna of North Dakota, a Republican insurgent.

FARMERS OPPOSE.

Senator Gronna declared the farmers of this country were almost unanimous in their opposition to the reciprocity bill, that their indignation was apparent to those viewing the farmers' attitude with prejudiced eyes; and that probably some of the best business men in the country covering that the farmers are indifferent will have occasion to change their opinions when the duties have been put into violation, he added, because it was in accordance with a pledge given to a foreign nation.

CENSURES THE PRESIDENT.

"The President," he continued, "has apparently come to the conclusion that he represents the people of this country both as executive and legislator, and that the two houses of Congress are merely bodies of men provided for by the constitution to do his bidding. A policy which, he said, the rank and file of the people would repudiate, and he condemned the policy of placing food products in the hands of the government and retaining a profective duty on manufactures."

"UNFRIENDLY REBUFS."

Mr. Gronna contended that the farmers had met with "unkindly rebuffs" when he attempted to present his case to the President, that the administration is indifferent to the needs of the farmer, that the free admission of the Canadian wheat growers and cause the surrender of wheat growing to that country to a large extent for some years to come. The agreement, he said, gave Canada such a preference as the United States gives no other country.

"I can not," he concluded, "support an agreement which sacrifices the interests of the American farmer in order that the Canadian farmer, the railroads, the millers, the packers and the brewing interests may be benefited."

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

Orchard Lands in Vicinity of Oakland Coin Money
Like a Mint

Once upon a time—and not so long ago that it has passed from the recollection of the present generation—the farmer's lot, like that of the policeman in the Gilbert & Sullivan opera, "Pirates of Penzance," was not "a happy one." Telling from before morn until after dowy ere did not tend to gladden the farmer's life; neither did the lengthened hours of his endeavor avail him much in the way of dollars and cents, comparatively speaking, at least. In the last analysis, and viewed from the perspective of past strenuous years, it became apparent to most of us that hard work, unless intelligently performed, is never profitable.
Then, again, there are those lilies of the field who never toil, and whose lives, we are told, are never profitable at any stage of this earthly pilgrimage. However, that is another story, and is far removed from that one in which the husbandman is the dominant character.

Modern methods of farming—methods in which the theoretical and the practical are effectively and indissolubly linked—have metamorphosed agriculture and eradicated its one-time drudgery so thoroughly that it takes rank with the professions, and is pursued at reasonable hours and under reasonable conditions.
The echoing horn affected by his forebears may yet on occasion call the farmer from the fields to his noonday meal, but you can wager that the cock's chill claxon no longer finds him a couple of hours work to the good at the break of day. Neither does the back yard pump longer serve as the single fount of his lavations—or libations, for that matter—nor the Old Farmer's Almanac the sole text for knowledge.

AN INDEPENDENT MAN.

"Mr. Granger" is a mighty independent man in all sections of these broad United States. He is the sentient embodiment of prosperity and the walking advertisement of good times. He is well-fed, well-clothed, and like the rest of us, well-protected, thanks to Mr. Aldrich and other of our charitably inclined elder statesmen. In California he is particularly favored and is particularly prosperous. Climate, soil and market conditions each contribute their share to his content and help to swell his already pictorial bank-roll. Taken by and large, the California farmer will have a better harvest this year than ever before in the history of the State.

Down Fresno way, for instance, the raisin growers are marketing their 1910 crop in New York at a minimum price of 75 cents per pound for fancy seed, and are in some instances getting as high as 75 cents per pound. These quotations are on 1910 raisins shipped for September delivery. Prices on Sultanas and Thompsons are particularly strong, with the improvement on the California fruit affecting the imported Sultanas. It is thought the present condition of the market will have a tendency to force the Eastern trade to buy early instead of holding off and allowing the packers to store up the crop for the summer months.
As there is little prospect of a decline in prices, it is believed the Eastern trade will carry spot goods through the summer solstice rather than pay increased prices for fall delivery.

DRIED FRUITS ACTIVE.

The closing week of June and the opening week of July were two of the most Picturesque scenes and buildings which add to the attractiveness of country life in Alameda Co.

active seven-day periods for California dried fruits in the Eastern market that have been recorded in many months. The purchasing movement is country wide and is growing. Following a close trimming of the weaker operators in the New York market, prices have been stimulated by buying for New York consumption, and by suite an appreciable speculative manipulation. Although indications are as yet wanting regarding the probable price at which the new crop of dried currants will be held, it is believed the price will be sufficiently high to insure the growers a good margin of profit. Large areas in Alameda, Contra Costa and Santa Clara counties are given over to the raising of currants and the subject of price and market is, therefore, one in which many persons residing in sections contiguous to Oakland are especially interested.

In Greece the market has for some time shown an advance, due largely to the fact that the consuming markets have been forced in large measure to replenish their stocks by drawing upon that country. Greek growers dominate prices at present, and in view of the short supply created in other markets held by them the arrival of the new fruit from that country and California. The possibility of such a consummation, has a tendency to yet further levitate prices. The new crop, both here and abroad, is in a satisfactory condition, particularly the California product. The outlook to the growers of currants in this State is more than usually rosy.

ALAMEDA COUNTY FRUITS.

Alameda county grown fruits are commanding better prices the current year than for many years past, which is a pretty significant statement when it is understood that the fruit grown in this county has always netted a generous profit to the orchardist. For that matter, Alameda county farm and orchard lands are the best buys in the realty market today. So also are kindred acres in the Sacramento valley, Contra Costa and Santa Clara counties. No person desiring to establish a rooftop at a point convenient of access to Oakland and San Francisco and which has at the same time the attractiveness of surrounding obtainable only in the country, can more completely satisfy such inclination than by purchasing suburban property in the vicinity of this city. By the exercise of business acumen in the purchase of his homestead he can secure one which is practically self-supporting from the start.

As an illustration in point the orchard areas in the vicinity of San Leandro and Hayward will serve well. Through medium of responsible Alameda county real estate men, orchard acreage can be purchased for villa site purposes which is already set out to bearing apricot, cherry, pear and other deciduous fruit trees. The sole care the prospective purchaser need exercise in making a selection. Is to the character of the stock with which the site offered is set out. Caution in that regard is particularly necessary if the place be set out to cherry trees. For longevity and general thriftiness a tree grafted upon the wild Black Mazzard or Mahaleb is preferable to one grafted upon the Oregon seedling. If the trees be grafted to the roots first mentioned long life and generous crops will result.

Near San Leandro, for instance, there stands a venerable cherry tree so grafted which has for fifty years withstood the ravages of time and weather. The present season it yielded 400 pounds of fruit, which was sold for an average of 6 cents per pound—a total of $24.00. Planted on a basis of an average of 100 pounds of cherries to the tree, and that the trees are set 15 feet apart—the regulation distance—a one-acre villa site set to cherries would yield its suburban owner the current season 13,000 pounds of fruit, having an aggregate value of approximately

SOMETHING ABOUT MARKETS.

In previous years transportation rates were placed at a figure by the railroads which made it impossible for the California grower of deciduous fruits to enter into competition in the Eastern markets with the grower of like fruits in Georgia and at other Southern points. May 1 of the current year, however, there became effective a rate east of Chicago of $1.15 per hundred pounds, as against a former rate of $1.40 per hundred pounds. As a result of the new rate, and despite the fact that a minimum tonnage was raised from 24,000 pounds to 25,000 pounds, there is a saving to the California shipper of 65 cents per car, a condition which permits him to land his products in the East on at least an equal footing with the grower of the South. Each car billed East carries an average of thirteen tons of fruit in addition to its freight of 11,000 pounds of ice, and is routed through the agency of the California Fruit Distribu-ters' Association, an organization which is a transfer agent only—neither growing nor buying fruit.

Eight days after the refrigerator car leaves the railway yards in Oakland its cargo of fruit is on sale in the Chicago market. Eleven days from Oakland, the fruit is on sale in the Boston market, and twelve days from Oakland is on sale in the New York market. Plans are now being made for routing California grown fruits direct from Oakland to England, the journey by sea, portion of the trip to be made in refrigerator steamers. When this plan becomes operative—it is a question of but a comparatively short time —California fruits will be served at breakfast in dear ol' Lunnon eighteen days after leaving Oakland.

EXPANSION OF MARKET.

Owing to the restrictions before noted the billing of fresh California fruits has in former years been confined almost exclusively to the section lying west of Chicago and St. Louis. To supply the demand within that area, however, necessitated the shipping of 15,000 cars of fresh fruit annually. As the last census demonstrates that 60 per cent of the population of the United States lies east of an imaginary line drawn between Chicago and St. Louis, it becomes apparent that California fruits have hitherto been distributed among but 40 per cent of the country's inhabitants. Now, however, the market has broadened, and so it will not be long before California grown pears, peaches, plums and cherries will be first in the markets and in the hearts—not to say stomachs—of the good people living east of the "Big River" as well as being the first harbinger of the good old summer time to reach those residing at Midwest points.

It is estimated that approximately 10, 000 cars of California fruit will be shipped to the Eastern markets the current year, and that next year the tonnage will about equal that billed to points west of Chicago. Figured on the basis first mentioned, approximately 25,000 cars of fresh California fruit will find an outside market the current year as against approximately 15,000 cars in former years, which is not bad business, all things considered. Now the direct result of this market expansion will be an increased demand for California fruits, a condition which cannot but conduce to an increase in their price and to an appreciation in the value of the acreages whereon they are raised. No section of the State will more quickly feel and respond to the improved conditions than that contiguous to Oakland and the adjacent towns of Alameda, Contra Costa and Santa Clara counties. Orchard, vineyard and walnut lands within the counties mentioned are, therefore, the sure-thing buys in the realty market today.

WRECKED MAINE

General Bixby Declares That the Magazines of Ship Blew Up.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The loss of the battleship Maine was caused by the explosion of its three magazines. No such effect as that produced on the vessel could have been caused by an explosion from without. Such is the opinion of General William H. Bixby, chief of engineers, U. S. A., who has returned from a personal inspection of the work of raising the Maine.

General Bixby said that a portion of the deck over the magazines was blown upward and laid backward, and there were numerous conditions of the hull which proved that no explosion from the outside, said General Bixby, could have caused the same result.

"What the primary cause of the explosion was," said General Bixby, "never will be learned."

General Bixby does not believe the bodies of those who lost their lives will be found on the Maine. He says they are probably buried 500 feet or more from the wreck in the mud.

While inspecting the work General Bixby prodded around the bow of the vessel. He found by his soundings that at least two-thirds of the bow was absolutely wrecked. The sides had been practically blown away and were buried in the mud. This, he said, showed conclusively that the wreck of the Maine was caused by an explosion within the vessel.

owned by County Assessor Clarence Hayward, nearly cost the lives of Merrill Howe, chauffeur, and three young women of Redwood City Tuesday night in a collision near Beresford with Millennaire William R. Stanley's automobile.

The machine which Hayward had pur-which he was about to make a tour of Southern California was completely wrecked. The young women, whose identity is a mystery, were thrown out of the car, one of them sustaining serious injury.

Dandermine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Dandermine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and fed. If the scalp is diseased, the hair will be deficient in its growth and become brittle and fall out. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up,
or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment;
when this occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Dandermine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exciting and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy. Try it and see for yourself.

Portland, Oregon, to testify in the Italian counterfeit money cases, which recently have been a matter of much worry to the postoffice at this city.
The counterfeit money, which was forwarded from Italy by letter to confederates here, was discovered in this city by Assistant Postmaster William W. Robson through the medium of a stolen thin foreign envelope, which permitted the exposure of the bills.
Robson had the letter taken to Postmaster Schafer for verification, fearing some of the money had been lost.
The postoffice officials thought the bills did not look right, and had them examined by a bank, which pronounced them counterfeit.

The postoffice authorities of Portland also discovered counterfeit bills addressed to the same persons as those to whom the Oakland bills had been sent, but not in such quantities. Postmaster Schafer was called upon to give evidence against the suspects, who are in detention at that point.

COAST-TO-COAST FLIGHT PLANNED BY HAMILTON

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., July 6.—
Charles K. Hamilton will try for the $50,000 prize offered for the first aeroplane trip between New York and San Francisco. Nothing definite is known as to when the flight is to be made.

Harry N. Atwood proposes to fly with Hamilton when the trip is made.
Atwood and Hamilton learned to fly the Burgess-Wright machines together at the Squantum field.

ANNOUNCEMENT

'I'M RIGHT THERE WHEN IT COMES TO SELLING CIGARS,' SAYS OSGOOD

Druggist Cuts Price On Bit Cigars, Selling Staple Sizes of the Best Brands for a Dime Apiece; Says He Can Save a Smoker Thirty Dollars a Year.

"While I guess I am right there when it comes to selling cigars," said Fred Osgood today, as he stood in front of the cigar department of his Twelfth and Washington street store.
"I certainly am getting the business of the smokers of this town. At first they were a little bit skeptical and imagined all sorts of things, but now all sorts of reasons for my ability to sell cigars at cut prices, but gradually they all came around, one at a time, and whenever they do start I know they will come back again for more."
Osgood has a way of getting particularly careful to carry the best cigars and the best smoking shapes, because it seems that the smokers are suspicious of cigars at cut rates. They will go into a cigar store and pay 12 1/2 cents for a cigar, and if it does not turn out to suit they will go back to the cigar man the very next day and try something else, half of the time not even making a complaint. With me it is different. They come in and get a 12-cent cigar for 10 cents, and if they are not feeling just right or the cigar does not just exactly suit their particular taste, they immediately jump to the conclusion that the reason is because it was a cut rate cigar, and they go back and get the identically the same brand that they have always smoked, they will imagine all sorts of things as reasons for the cut price. Such conditions necessitate my being very careful in the selection of my brands, colors and shapes.

"There was a man in here only yesterday," continued Osgood. "He was a smoker of El Sidelos and he could hardly believe his eyes when we showed him the same cigar for 10 cents that he had been paying 12 1/2 cents for the past five years. He had not read anything in the papers about our cut prices and as a consequence was taken so completely by surprise that he actually looked at though he thought we were selling him a gold brick. The facts of the case were that he really liked the color of the El Sidelos that we had seen in the market for some time and probably would have been willing to have paid even more than he did for them if necessary. I do not know how he came out, but I will venture to say that he will be a regular patron of our cigar department in the future. This is the way it goes all day long. You would be surprised at the way the business is building up."

Mr. Osgood claims that men who smoke a day can save from $20 to $40 a year by purchasing them at his store for 10 cents each. This is no small item when considered at a lump sum, and any smoker who does not take advantage of the conditions can consider that he is simply throwing away this much money.

"I always figured that Osgood's proposition of selling cigars at cut prices was some sort of a bunk," said a prominent Oakland man this morning. "But I found it to be quite the contrary. That man is selling the finest line of cigars that I ever saw in any one stock, and even if he sold them at the regular price he ought to be doing the cigar business of this city. The trouble is that we are in the habit of going to the cigar store for our smokes and half the men do not know that cigars can be secured anywhere else. Then there are some people who naturally shy at buying cigars in a drug store and, judging from the experience in our drug stores, they are about right, but it is entirely different with Osgood. He makes a business of selling cigars and runs it exactly as any other individual would run an exclusive cigar store.
His line is fresh and well selected and of a big variety, and when you consider the fact that he is selling all these splendid brands at the cut rate price you wonder how it is that there is room for his counters for a customer."

Osgood's drug stores where these cigars are sold are at Twelfth and Washington and Seventh and Broad-

MONEY BACK

In less than twelve months from the date of purchase is a record that some of the buyers in OAKLEY TRACT will make. Land that was sold last fall for $125 to $150 per acre is producing $200 and $250 per acre this summer. Orchards that were sold this spring on terms sold last fall by us have made a wonderful growth and in every case a perfect stand.
Alameda planted last April was cut June fifth and produced nearly two tons to the acre, being less than sixty days from the planting of the seed to the first cutting.
Alameda planted your year ago has been cut three times so far this year and has produced over two tons to the acre per cutting. We will show you corn that was planted eight weeks ago that is now from 5 to 7 feet high; beans five weeks old 10 to 12 inches high. Some of the uncut-tured fields of OAKLEY TRACT produced 2 1/2 tons of wheat and the acre this spring, worth $3.00 per ton. Early potatoes, grown on the OAKLEY TRACT, brought 50 cents per box, more than the market price, because of their superior quality. We will show you the finest tomatoes in the Sacramento Valley already contracted for at $30 per ton. This means at least $200 per acre.

These are facts that we are proud of
and if you are interested or want a piece of land in any sized tract from 10 acres up to 160 acres, we will show you the OAKLEY TRACT. It is located just one-half mile from the thriving town of Wheatland and adjoins the famous Wheatland hop fields;
fine roads, unexcelled shipping accommodations, conveniences of the city and the finest land in California; prices $15 to $20 per acre. We are sure that you of land the small farmer must have for diversified and intensified farming. Send for illustrated booklet or call in and see our special land man and he will tell you all about it.

National Educational Visitors.

Practically seven trainloads of delegates and visitors to the National Educational Convention which is this year to be held in San Francisco arrived overland yesterday from Chicago, Ohio and Colorado. This contingent constitutes the vanguard of an army of teachers and their friends from 25,000 to 30,000 strong, now on its way across the continent. Six other trains are due here today, among them being one carrying the president of the association, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, the distinguished Chicago Superintendent of Public Schools, and her party of thirty teachers.

The convention will open its regular sessions next Saturday and these will be continued during the coming week until Friday evening, July 14. Great interest is being taken in the coming convention by the public school teachers throughout the State and particularly by those located in the bay cities and by the faculties of the two universities and the students attending the summer school of the State University at Berkeley, among whom are enrolled many residents of other parts of California and of other States.

Great preparations have been made by the local committees for the entertainment of the visitors during their stay here. Next Tuesday it will be the privilege of Oakland to perform the functions of host. The program of the day provides excursions to various points of interest—a sight-seeing tour, in which the visitors will get a fair idea of Oakland's size, character, development, industrial and commercial status, its attractions and the strenuous effort and progressive spirit it is manifesting for present self-improvement and to qualify it for its manifest destiny at an early date as a great metropolitan, commercial and manufacturing city.

It goes without saying that nothing will be overlooked by the local committee in the entertainment of the visiting delegates on Oakland day. They are all exceptionally bright, intelligent and observing people. They will make a mental note of everything they see and hear during their stay here, and whatever impressions their minds receive from what comes under their observation will be carried with them to their homes and there communicated to their friends. Every party making the tour of the city should be accompanied by a competent local guide who can intelligently explain every interesting feature of local development, including the improvement of the harbor for commercial uses, the expansion of the business and manufacturing districts, the making of public parks and playgrounds, the erection of new public buildings, the metamorphosis and extension of street railways to accommodate the rapid growth of population, and the new and attractive residential districts which have been developed in the foothills as the first immediate result of the extraordinary growth which Oakland has witnessed during the past five years. If these features of Oakland's progress and prosperity are properly exploited to these visitors, it will surely inure to the city's future advantage.

The postal savings banks are multiplying and growing in popular favor. The first institution of this kind to be established in Alameda county will be opened August 1, at Hayward, as a result of Postmaster Alonzo Bradford's energetic efforts to secure the consent of the Postmaster-General.

"Remember the Maine."

The people of the United States will have occasion to remember the Maine with mixed feelings of sorrow and repentance. They will recall with sentiments of regret the mad passion they indulged in after the Maine was sunk in Havana harbor; the unreasoning clamor for war they indulged in, and the fierce objection they made to raising the hulk that the cause of the explosion might be ascertained. They would listen to no suggestion that possibly the ship might have been destroyed by an accidental explosion from the inside, but insisted that Spain was responsible for the disaster. So the investigation was limited to an inquiry by a board of naval officers who decided that the Maine was sunk by an external explosion. Had the hulk been raised at that time it would have plainly demonstrated whether the explosion was external or internal.

Now the truth is out at last. The Maine has finally been raised in obedience to the demands of sentiment and mournful curiosity and the wreck gives mute evidence that Spain was guiltless of sinking the ship. General Bixby, chief of the engineer corps of the United States army, has examined the battered and corroded hulk and unhesitatingly declares that an internal explosion destroyed the Maine. This is the conclusion of an expert. It confirms an opinion that has steadily been growing in the minds of thoughtful Americans. It also forces upon the American people the conviction that they were unjust and unreasonable in holding Spain to account for the loss of the battleship.

True the sinking of the Maine was not the ostensible cause of the war that followed, but it was the event that made war inevitable. It provoked a popular rage that finally drove the McKinley administration to the extremity of declaring war. In that war we wrested from Spain all her colonies and loaded ourselves up with a problem that has strained our constitution, violated the precedents which were established in Washington's administration and brought our good faith under suspicion. In taking the Philippines we violated the fundamental principle of the Monroe Doctrine, and by taking Porto Rico we excited the apprehension of every Central and South American state. At the outset we asserted that the war was not one of spoliation or for the acquisition of territory, but we ended by eating our own professions and taking Porto Rico and the Philippines. We went through the form of buying those colonies from Spain, but the purchase was only a farce, a hideous mockery. Every person of sense knows that Spain was forced to give up Porto Rico and the Philippines, and accepted the $20,000,000 paid for the islands because she was compelled to accept the terms offered. The sale was not a bargain in any sense; it was a condition of conquest, a surrender of the vanquished.

For three years after the Treaty of Paris we waged a war of subjugation in the Philippines. In that war we practiced precisely the same barbarities that Weyler practiced in Cuba, and for which he was denounced in every American newspaper as a butcher and a savage. Under pretense of freeing the Cubans from cruelty and oppression we purchased sovereignty over a people fighting for independence from Spain, and wound up by employing the reconcentration camp and the water cure as instruments to compel submission.

That is just what Spain did. We now have the humiliation of knowing that our speculation is an unprofitable one; that we have dishonored the principles laid down in our own Declaration of Independence, the basic principle of the Monroe Doctrine and the solemn warning Washington addressed to his countrymen on his retirement from the Presidency—all to our financial detriment and loss of prestige with our South American neighbors. And lastly, it has been demonstrated that the Maine was not treacherously sunk, and that we acted insanely and unjustly in refusing to allow the hulk to be lifted immediately after the disaster. So popular passion and clamor drove our country to war with Spain, and that war has led to results and conditions which every patriotic American can only contemplate with grief and apprehension. The outpost we have gained at so much cost and by such dubious means on the coast of Asia brings us within the sphere of Asiatic politics. We have stepped outside of the Monroe Doctrine into the field of international intrigue, and the outcome no man can foresee. All this because of the sinking of the Maine. Have we not reason to remember that disaster? It was a disaster that has brought us face to face with national calamity, has stained our escutcheon and entangled our policies with Old World complications of a most perplexing and aggravating character. That is why the loss of the Maine will ever linger poignant in the American memory.

Senator Cummins wants to stop the President from talking to the people about reciprocity with Canada, but he has not yet asked Congress to gag him. It is not likely that Congress would heed such a request should he make it, nor is it clear that Congress has any right to interfere with the President's liberty of speech. But why should not the President give to the public, in face to face talks, the reasons why Congress should ratify the reciprocity compact? And why should Senator Cummins object to the President presenting to the people his views on the subject?

The Way Politics Is Being Uplifted.

Reform goes on apace at Sacramento. The latest victory scored for the "uplift" has been achieved by the discharge of an elevator man at the State Capitol and three or four gardeners and laborers on the capitol grounds, whose places were promptly filled with men who can be relied on to be faithful to the new machine the anti-machine faction is building up. So the process of kicking the Southern Pacific out of politics goes merrily on. The harm inflicted on the Southern Pacific is not discernible, but no doubt the octopus winces every time some poor devil in the service of the State loses his job. The S. P. is doing as well as it did before. It has not been hurt by the Legislature nor has the Governor shown any disposition to interfere with its operations. But it must be understood that somehow the people have gained a glorious victory over the corporation. True they have to pay the freight just as they did before and put up with the same accommodations they formerly enjoyed, but they should not be deceived by appearances. Taxes have not been reduced and the expenses of the State government have gone up, but the railroad has been kicked out of politics, glory be! It is still making money, however, and exhibits no sign of distress. Still it was a famous victory. The distribution of the spoils among the victors proves that.

Congressman Raker wants government troops to patrol the forest reserves during the summer months. As we understand it, he proposes that the army shall police the forest reserves during the period of general visitation by the public. There is something to be said in favor of his proposition and much against it. But Mr. Raker can do more to benefit both the forests and the public by inducing Congress to appropriate money for a system of roads and trails through the mountain forest reserves in this State. Yosemite valley is in his district; it is situated in a large forest reserve abounding in a great variety of natural beauties. But this vast and splendid region is unprovided with roads and trails of a suitable character for the general public. It contains no accommodations such as are provided for visitors in the Yellowstone Park. There is much complaint about the condition of the roads in Yosemite valley. More bridges across the Merced river are sadly needed. The hotel accommodations are inadequate. A detachment of soldiers is kept in the valley during the summer months, but the troops serve no good purpose. A military camp does not add to the scenic attractions, and the administration of affairs in the valley suffers from divided authority. Mr. Raker should do something to get Yosemite matters straightened out before sending the United States army out to protect the forests.

Hasn't the weather clerk got his geography mixed? For some time the temperature in Boston has been above that of New Orleans.

Bachelor Musings

The best thing out—a conflagration. Woman is apt to be the stronger vessel in the courtship class. Hard cash is so called because it is hard to get along without it. Country life looks good to everybody except those who have to live in it. A woman is in society when she changes her accent to go calling. In putting his best foot forward, many a man has made a fool of himself. You might as well trust a girl as not, because you'll never know anyhow. Wolves that come to our doors are never disguised—so they cannot be blessings. A woman will gladly compromise if her husband is willing to make all the concessions. A wise girl is indisposed when a young man calls unexpectedly after she has been eating onions. There is nearly always some rule at hand that will enable you to prove anything you want to. In the course of time a woman may forget why she hates a man, but she will continue to hate him just the same. After a woman gets on the shady side of 30 she would rather a man tell her how young she looks than how pretty she is. If a girl's mother looks like a house, a man in love with her can be sure she's going to look, at the same age, like the stem of a lily.—New York Press.

The boss places a heap more confidence in the fellow who just quits instead of swearing off. A clam lays now and keeps still—and for all that the best he gets is a chowder finish. If mistakes were irremediable none of us would ever get out of the error column. Instead of handing the wallop to ourselves, we blame it on the demon rum because he can't talk back. The burro likes to consider himself iron-willed, but he forgets that stuff when they build a fire under him. There's hardly anything a man will lie more freely about than how he got out of an investment with a little gain when it was a big loss.—New York Press.

ALONG BYWAYS

A cow in this town recently drank four quarts of ammonia, and she's been giving ice cream ever since.—Charleston News and Courier.

That's nothing. Norfolk, having long since outgrown the village state, no longer harbors specimens of the bovine species within its corporate limits. In the neighborhood of this city, however, there is a cow that feeds on bran and mint and daily gives four gallons of brandy juleps.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

A magazine article is entitled "What It Costs to Fly." A good deal must depend, however, on your taste in tombstones.—Denver Republican.

WHEN THEY PARTED. A well-meaning Washington florist was the cause of much embarrassment to a young man who was in love with a rich and beautiful girl. It appeared that one afternoon she informed the young man that the next day would be her birthday, whereupon the florist remarked that he would the next morning send her some roses, one rose for each year. That night he wrote a note to his florist, ordering the delivery of twenty roses to the young woman. The florist himself filled the order, and thinking to improve on it said to his clerk: "Here is an order from young Jones for twenty roses. He's one of my best customers, so I'll throw in ten more for good measure."—Lippincott's.

The professional reformer is justified in feeling that he has a steady job for the rest of his life.

Of two evils it is natural to choose the one that is least likely to be found out.

'POP' KEENER MOURNED

John Henry Keener, master of the Davis House at the Lawrenceville School, and secretary of the class of 1897 at Princeton, died on June 22 in Lawrenceville, N. J. He was ill only a few hours. Death was caused by apoplexy.

Mr. Keener was nearly 50 years old. His undergraduate days at Princeton came later in life than they do to most men. It was as "Pop" Keener that he was always known among his classmates and later to the boys whom he taught at the preparatory school. In his senior year he had Phi Beta Kappa standing, and it was his nature to help out men who weren't getting along as well. That year, his classmates recall, he pulled through a dozen men who if it hadn't been for his tutoring wouldn't have got their degrees. On account of the work he did that year ex-President Patton, who was at the head of Princeton then, asked the board of trustees to make him the president's fellow in ethics. He went back for a year in post-graduate work with this assistance.

Immediately afterward he went to Lawrenceville as master of Latin and mathematics. There he first had charge of the Fairfax House, and a few years later he was promoted to the Davis. His faculty for getting men to work was even more evident as a master than it had been as an undergraduate. Not one boy has dropped out of school from his house this year because of poor standing, and his boys got more honors regularly than any other group in school. And yet with all his discipline he was one of the most popular of the masters. Twice since he went to Lawrenceville the students' annual publication has been dedicated to him. This is the biggest honor that the boys can confer. When his boys gave him a loving cup recently someone told him that he was working too hard. He was pretty deeply affected about the gift, but when he got up to respond the first thing he said was: "Well, I'd rather work out than rust out."—Portland Telegram.

JUDGE JUSTIFIES LYNCHING

Georgia has been rightly stirred to indignation by the circumstances attending the lynching of two negroes in Walton county. The attitude taken by Judge Brand, who is mainly responsible for the lack of protection to the victims, is of a nature to arouse condemnation even at this distance from the crime. And that of the Sheriff and of the Governor is hardly better.

The Judge admits that he knew the negroes would be killed by a mob if taken back to Walton county from Atlanta without armed protection. In his defense he says: "I am opposed to lynching, but if I had called the military and some young man among the soldiers was killed, or some of the citizens of Walton county were killed, I would never forgive myself." He added: "I don't propose to be the engine of sacrificing any white man's life for all such negro criminals in the country."

Such expressions from a man charged with the high responsibility of sustaining the law and upholding justice argue a degree of mental as well as of moral perversion that is well high incredible in a sane mind. If men suspected of crime are to be exposed to mobs simply because the authorities deem it better that the accused should be murdered than that a mob should be suppressed, then we might as well get rid of courts and judges altogether. It is gratifying to know that public sentiment in Georgia resents the affront put upon the State by this action of Judge and Sheriff and Governor and that a legislative investigation will be made. The offense is one of the greatest of which high officials could be guilty. The plea made by the Judge ought to be in itself the ground for his impeachment and removal from office.—New York World.

Political Comment

Colonel Bryan is no longer a candidate—he has made that plain. But if he keeps on branding prominent Democratic leaders as impossible there may soon be nobody left to nominate by the editor of the Commencer. In which event, of course, the country's call will have to be heeded.—Kansas City Journal.

Still, Congress has given no official endorsement of Washington as a summer resort.—Atlantic Constitution.

HIP HURRAH VAUDEVILLE OFFERED AT THE ORPHEUM

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if we were not certain that it would do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users they would lose faith in us and our statements and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

Therefore, when we assure you that if your hair is beginning to thin or fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness, you may rest assured that we know what we are talking about.

Out of one hundred test cases Rexall "93" Hair Tonic gave entire satisfaction in ninety-three cases. It has been proved that it will grow hair even on bald heads, when, of course, the baldness had not existed for so long a time that the follicles, which are the roots of the hair, had not become absolutely lifeless.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is vastly different from other similar preparations. We believe that it will do more than any other human agency toward restoring the hair growth and hair health. It is not greasy, and will not gum the scalp or hair, or cause permanent stain. It is as pleasant to use as pure cold water.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded without question or quibble if it does not do as we claim. Certainly we can offer no stronger argument. It comes in two sizes, price 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at The Owl Drug Company, Inc., Tenth and Washington; Thirtieth and Broadway and Sixteenth and San Pablo.

TROOPS TO GUARD FORESTS, IS PLAN

Raker Introduces Bill Following Stimson's Refusal to Issue Orders.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—As a sequel to the action of Secretary Stimson of the war department in declining to issue orders to have federal troops stationed in the national forests to prevent and fight forest fires and protect such national forests, Congressman Raker of California yesterday introduced in the house a bill, which, if passed, will compel the war department to send United States troops into the national forests within the state of California during the months of July, August and September for this purpose.

Explaining his bill, Raker said that at the request of the California legislature he had asked the secretary of war to assist the forces of the civil government in the national forest reserves and direct that United States prevent the spread of forest fires; this Secretary Stimson had refused to do, saying that the request compelled the use of troops not only to fight a fire in an emergency, but to prevent fires and to protect the forests; that the latter functions would require that the troops be stationed in the forests, a subject, and that this was not permissible under the act of congress approved June 18, 1878.

"But," said Raker, "I cannot understand how it is that troops were ordered out last year, if, as the war department says now, there is no law on the statute books permitting this to be done."

MEXICO CITY STRIKE DRAWS FIRST BLOOD

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—The street car strike claimed its first victim last night. In a clash between police and strikers one man was killed and a woman probably fatally injured. Several persons were more or less seriously wounded. The police charged a mob which was storming a car in a downtown street.

DUBLIN OFFICIALS AT OUTS OVER THE KING

DUBLIN, July 6.—The controversy in the city corporation on the question of presenting an address to King George upon his approaching arrival in the Irish capital became more acute yesterday as a special meeting called to consider the matter and to come to some final decision. The purpose of the meeting, however, fell through for lack of a quorum. The members were present, but enough refused to answer to their names to defeat any action.

At a caucus of Nationalist members of the corporation only four of the thirty-eight voted in favor of an address.

The lord mayor announced his determination to present an address to his Majesty despite the opposition. He said that John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, positively urged that a presentation be made. The city hall was guarded by police during the meeting.

A freak photo of Edward Abeles and Miss Charlotte Landers in "He Tried to Be Nice" at the Orpheum.

It is vaudeville of the hip, hip hurrah sort at the Oakland Orpheum this week, the holiday crowds having packed the theater. Their delight in the new show was of the overwhelming sort. It is one of the snappiest, finest programs that the house has had to offer in the last year. It starts with a rush when the Farrel-Taylor trio take the stage and winds up in splendid style when the Belclair Brothers do their wonderful stunts as "The Modern Hercules."

In between these two great acts there is a succession of classy stuff, ranging from the finished comedy work of Ed and Abeles and Miss Landers in their play "He Tried to Be Nice," to the merry funmaking of Raymond and Cav-

WILSON SITS AS ANTHEM IS PLAYED

"America" Fails to Bring the American Ambassador to His Feet.

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—A movement has been started in the American colony here to petition the department at Washington to transfer Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson from the scene of his present activities because of a lack of respect for the American national hymn, the ambassador being so busy eating when it was played Tuesday that he did not rise to his feet.

The incident, which caused so much comment, occurred at the Presidential breakfast, a part of the Fourth of July celebration. The famous Mexican Military band was playing "America," out of compliment to the day. As soon as the familiar strains of the opening bars were heard, President de la Barra, who was seated next to Mr. Wilson at the table, asked the ambassador if it was not customary to stand while the hymn was being played in the United States. He asked Wilson, replied to President de la Barra's query:

"We are eating; what's the use?"

By this time everybody except the representatives of the American government was standing, and the ambassador, talking in the situation, rose to his feet.

This is the third or fourth time Wilson has offended the American colony in the presence of the high officials of the Mexican nation.

erly, who twist the King's English in amusing style.

Albert Hole, the English boy soprano, is one of the great features of the show and his wonderfully sweet voice has created a vast amount of talk.

The Three Vagrants who play on a variety of instruments in pleasing style, James H. Cullen, "the man from the west" and Joseph Hart's big sketch "A Night in a Turkish Bath" are other features of the program.

Edward Abeles, the star of the bill, is to remain for but one week, his engagement closing next Saturday night. There will be five new acts added to the show next Sunday afternoon, so that those who love novelty will be sure of getting an abundance of it.

TAFT CHANGES FOREST DOMAINS

The President by Proclamation Creates Nine New Reserves and Alters Boundaries.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A number of changes in the National forests of California, Oregon, Idaho and Wyoming, made in the interest of more convenient and economical administration and especially of better protection against fire, have just been announced. These changes have been accomplished by President Taft through a series of proclamations signed at different times in June, but all becoming effective July 1.

The proclamations were drawn so as to dovetail into one another, with the result that taken all together they subdivide 26 National forests for a former 17. The only increase in area is in California, in which two small additions, involving a total of little over 17,000 acres, are made. On the other hand the proclamations eliminate a total of nearly 242,000 acres, as follows: 85,000 acres in California, nearly 126,000 acres in Oregon; about 80,000 acres in Idaho, and about 52,000 acres in Wyoming.

Thus the rearrangement which puts 26 National forests in place of 17 is accomplished by a net reduction in area of 225,000 acres. It is explained by the United States Department of Agriculture that last summer's fire experience in California made it clear that many of the forest supervisors were in charge of units which were too large for efficient administration.

The changes are a part of a general movement to develop, with the aid of last year's experience, a more efficient system of fire protection possible at the present time.

In Idaho the Clearwater, Bear and Snake, and Nezperce National forests were reduced by the establishment of two new units, to be known as the Selway and the Nezperce National forests, with headquarters at Kootenai and St. Maries, Idaho. This was brought about as follows:

From the Clearwater National forest, 100,000 acres were transferred to the Selway National forest, 100,000 acres were transferred to the Nezperce National forest, and from the Nezperce to the Selway 117,140 acres. These were eliminated from the Selway National forest, aggregating 592,000 acres, which upon examination were found to be non-forest land.

In Wyoming the Bonneville was divided into three National forests. The former Sweetwater division, the southern portion of the Bonneville, embracing 24,935 acres, becomes the Washakie forest, with headquarters at Lander; the Green River division, the central portion of the Bonneville, embracing 577,850 acres, becomes the Bridger, with headquarters at Pine Bluff; and the northern portion of the Bonneville, embracing 24,935 acres, becomes the Snake, with headquarters at Dubois.

Eliminations aggregating 24,935 acres were made from the Bonneville, 14,175 acres from the Selway, 10,000 acres from the Nezperce, and 5,760 acres from the Snake. These areas consist of small tracts lying along the borders of the forest which upon examination were found to be non-forest lands.

In California changes were made affecting the Klamath National forest as follows: A total addition to the Klamath of 2480 acres of forest land; an elimination of 85,000 acres of forest land; and tracts consisting principally of alienated lands lying along the eastern border of the forest, two small transfers from the Siskiyou and the Crater forests to the Klamath, and a transfer of 352,000 acres of land from the Klamath to the Siskiyou, embracing all the Siskiyou river drainage lying within the forest. In connection with the latter transfer, 13,755 acres of valuable timber land located within the State of California were added to the Siskiyou National forest.

POLICE SEEK ASSAILANTS OF SAN JOAQUIN GIRL

STOCKTON, July 6.—Every peace officer in San Joaquin county today commenced a search for two ranch hands who brutally assaulted a fifteen-year-old French girl near Manteca last week. The parents of the girl did not report the affair until yesterday, but the assailants have a lead upon the officers who have an indefinite description of the pair.

The girl went into the yard at her home shortly after dark and was seized by the two men, who carried her to a secluded spot. When released by the assailants she made her way home, where she told her story and a physician was called. She was not in a condition to relate the circumstances of the assault until today, when she gave District Attorney Folz the details and a partial description of the men, whom she believes to be ranch hands employed in the vicinity of her father's home. The girl, whose name has been kept secret, says she will know the voices of the men.

BROMOKINGS SPRINGS SURPRISE AND TAKES NEW SPOUSE

Captain Emerson and Mrs. McCormack Now Man and Wife.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Mrs. Anna Preston McCormack of Irvington-on-the-Hudson yesterday became the bride of Captain Isaac Edwards Emerson, military band leader of Buffalo and New York and father of the noted beauty, Mrs. Smith Hollis McKim, who recently obtained a divorce at Reno. The attractive young matron thwarted the agencies representing Mrs. Emerson, who claimed an absolute divorce just five weeks ago.

It was admitted last night by one in the confidence of the former Mrs. Emerson that they had no intention that the wedding was to take place at such an early date and that they were surprised they hardly could believe it to be true. Only a few weeks ago the former Mrs. Emerson declared she would have something important to say when she knew of her former husband really intended to remarry.

Captain Emerson and his bride slipped away from their friends last evening. All arrangements have been completed for an early departure for Europe, where they will spend their honeymoon.

500,000 CALIFORNIA ROSES GIVEN DELEGATES

PROMINENT EDUCATORS FROM EAST REACH SAN FRANCISCO

MRS. YOUNG IS A NOTABLE ARRIVAL

Committees Busy Receiving the Hundreds of Visitors Who Arrive for Session.

County and City Superintendents Discuss Problems Prior to Big Meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The first big influx of eastern delegates to the convention of the National Educational Association, which will open here tomorrow evening, arrived today. This vanguard included representatives from Chicago, New Orleans and Denver. The imposing is expected to continue steadily until Saturday and the reception committees are busy with plans for welcoming thousands of visitors. Educators from Los Angeles and other parts of the state who arrived yesterday have volunteered their services to assist San Franciscans in the reception and entertainment of delegates from other parts of the country.

MRS. YOUNG ARRIVES.

The most notable of the day's arrivals was Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, president of the association and city superintendent of schools in Chicago. Mrs. Young came with a party of about thirty. The opening feature of the convention will be a banquet and reception tomorrow evening in Mrs. Young's honor in Scottish Rite temple.

More than a thousand local and eastern pedagogues will sit at the table and this preliminary event promises to be one of the most successful on the entire convention program.

The receiving staff at the Ferry building is being kept busy welcoming the visitors, although none of the large delegations has arrived. Arrangements have been made with more than 200 hotels and apartment houses of the city for the accommodation of the delegates. Mrs. Flagg Young, the president, is at the St. Francis.

500,000 CALIFORNIA ROSES.

Five hundred thousand California roses are being given away to the visitors as they arrive. This work is under the supervision of Mrs. George Marshall's sub-committee, under Mrs. Lovell White's main flower committee.

After their reception the guests are being turned over to Mrs. Louis Hertz, head of a list of sixty clubwomen, who will assist the delegates to choose their hotel accommodations. To Mrs. Aylett Cotton and her committee of eight has been assigned the arrangements for state reunions, especially in the state booths at the Monday night reception.

The plans for the entertainment of the visitors are going on apace under the direction of able committees.

INSURGENT MOVEMENT.

The most vital issue of the convention is the insurgent movement which, although denied and decry by the regulars who have arrived in the early vanguard, is stated on good authority, to be the subject of a bitter fight at the convention.

In California the word has gone out from state headquarters to keep away from the fight, to make the boys and sides and to be hospitable. Illinois, New York and Massachusetts, however, not bound to neutrality by such cords, are advancing into the conflict in a manner the regulars know not of.

Ella Flagg Young, president of the association, who broke the regular slate at the last convention, and her close lieutenants, among them A. S. Hall of Chicago and Carroll G. Pease of Milwaukee, leading members of the board of trustees, have not shown their hand.

The fight is due to center about the national council, as already announced. This body is termed honorary by Mrs. Young's party, but the procedure to be followed in abolishing or reorganizing the council is a secret. When Mrs. Young made her speech of acceptance at the Boston convention last year following her election as president, she pledged herself to a policy which she said would make of the National Educational Association a more democratic body. Having their stand on this declaration, the insurgents are striving to break down the inner circle of the organization, the national council, and turn over to the association its powers and duties.

DR. BUTLER NOT PRESENT.

Owing to the critical illness of his aged mother, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and chairman of the board of trustees of the National Educational Association, will be unable to attend the convention.

Dr. Butler has been counted upon as a feature of the assembly, as a leader of the "old guard" forces in the coming battle with the insurgent element, and his absence will be keenly felt.

When the convention opens there will be introduced a popular measure that will find the support of thousands of teachers, say the insurgent leaders. This measure contemplates an investigation into the working conditions, wages and living conditions of teachers; whether the wages and living conditions have increased and

GEORGE FRICK, Alameda County Superintendent of Schools, who will have prominent part in the convention of the National Educational Association.

Improved as much during the last ten years as the salaries and circumstances of persons in other employments, and whether wages have kept pace with the cost of living.

DR. BROWN TO ARRIVE.

Word was received yesterday afternoon that Elmer E. Brown, who would have been one of the prominent men of the convention, will not attend on account of his recent appointment as chancellor of the University of the City of New York. Dr. Brown was formerly head of the department of education at the University of California, resigning in 1906 to become United States commissioner of education under President Roosevelt. This post he relinquished on July 1 to accept the chancellorship in New York city.

It was announced last night by James A. Barr of Stockton, chairman of the local committee on publicity and attendance, that California would more than fulfill the pledge made at the last convention. At that time the state delegation promised to increase the membership of the organization by 7000 if the convention would come to San Francisco. The results of the systematic canvass that has been made show that all between 600 and 6000 advance memberships have been paid up. Barr expects the total before the end of the convention to be nearly 10,000.

State Educators Discuss Problems of School Master

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—For the purpose of pushing their work before the opening of the N. E. A. convention, the city and county school superintendents of California met at the Palace Hotel yesterday in the first session of their third annual convention. The meetings will continue every morning and afternoon during the remainder of the week until Saturday. Edward Hyatt, state superintendent of the organization, under whose direction the business of each convention is outlined, called the meeting to order.

Every county superintendent in the state and the superintendents from twenty-eight important cities are in attendance and the principal speakers are recruited from the noted eastern educators who will arrive within the next few days to attend the sessions of the N. E. A.

DISCUSS NEW LAWS.

The principal matters of business to be taken up at the superintendents' convention will include the law passed at the last session of the legislature relating to school affairs. There will be conferences on the new apportionment bill and discussions of the practical benefits of the law providing for local teachers' institutes, county school libraries and other matters.

The speakers yesterday morning were Miss Harriet Eddy, an assistant in the state library at Sacramento;

Mrs. Minnie O'Neill of Sacramento;

Mrs. J. A. Henshall of Yolo, Marie

V. Lehner of Santa Barbara, Professor John W. Ritchie of William and Mary College, Virginia, who led a discussion on the "Primer of Hygiene," of which he is the author, and others.

In the afternoon the speakers were

Carroll G. Pease, city superintendent of schools of Milwaukee; Superintendent

James E. Reynolds of Ventura county, Mrs. M. A. Hall, superintendent of El Paso county, and President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University.

Ice Cream Spilled in Street; Potrero Kids Have Feast

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The children of the Potrero were given an unexpected treat this morning when twenty gallons of ice cream were hurled into the street from a wagon of the National Ice Cream Company. The children were left in undisputed possession of the scene. James Riccio, the driver, put on his brakes to go

NEW LINE TO FLY CHINESE FLAG

Dollar Vessels Will Be Sailed On the Trans-Pacific Routes.

Official of San Francisco Firm Verifies Report From the North.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 6.—Captain J. F. Farrell, a Singapore pilot who arrived on the Sado Maru, said he had been informed at Shanghai that Robert Dollar of San Francisco, head of the Dollar line, is now at Peking negotiating with the Chinese government for the establishment of a trans-Pacific line under the Chinese flag. It is said the plan is to transfer the Dollar steamers to the Chinese flag and build two new 12,000-ton modern passenger steamers to be operated with European masters and engineers and Chinese crews.

PLANS UNDER WAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The Robert Dollar Steamship Company of this city, one of the oldest shipping firms on the coast, is contemplating sailing its vessels under the Chinese flag and thus aiding in the formation of a substantial merchant marine for the celestial kingdom.

Negotiations are under way and while no definite plans have yet been formulated, it is said on good authority that if the Chinese government takes the action that is expected four vessels of the Dollar line and one now being constructed in Scotland will hoist the yellow flag of China in place of the stars and stripes.

VERIFIES REPORT.

"It is true that we have contemplated sailing our ships under the Chinese flag," said Stanley Dollar in speaking of the matter today. "Certain matters are now being discussed and if things come out favorably four of our vessels and one new building will sail as a part of the Chinese merchant marine. This would have the effect of transferring the headquarters of the company in name at least to China, although at this time there has been nothing contemplated in the line of selling stock or taking Chinese into the directorship of the company."

It is understood that the Chinese officials are endeavoring to get the proposition and it is more so likely that the matter will be so arranged with the government that the Dollar line, so well-known on the Pacific coast, will transfer its standard, thus decreasing the United States' already minute merchant marine.

STREET CAR VICTIM DIES IN HOSPITAL

Miss Bridget McGinnis Succumbs to Injuries Received in June.

Miss McGinnis had no known relatives living and had made her home with Mrs. D. Storm. She leaves an estate valued at about $5000, including a house and lot in Alameda worth about $3000.

Missing Globe Trotters Reach Valley Safely

Britishers Declare the Report of Their Deaths Makes Their Experience "Jolly."

SAN BERNARDINO, July 6.—The four English globe-trotters, reported as lost in Frost Canyon, the natural ice box of the San Bernardino mountain range, about three weeks ago, were found safely last night and were surprised to learn the reports of their death. The party consists of George MacDonald, Mark Landen, Percy Elmore, Harry Gordon and a native guide. "On the day of the catastrophe," said Gordon, "we were encamped amid the ice and snow of the canyon and there we celebrated the event. It was a jolly experience, but to return and find we were reported lost makes it all the more jolly."

He will go at once to Lincoln, Neb., to take charge of the Lincoln diocese. There was a most notable gathering of the Catholic dignitaries in Wichita for the consecration ceremony.

ANCIENT CACHE OF HERMIT FOUND

Books, Coins and Weapons, Buried Years Ago, Are Unearthed by Boys.

Hesikia Thomas Tells Secret of Turning Stones Into Gold.

COREY, Mich., July 6.—A romance of the days when much of Michigan was a wilderness was brought to light today when boys of the South Bend, Ind., Y. M. C. A. summer camp, while digging a hole for a flagstaff, brought up a rusty iron box containing pistols, books and several documents.

The lock could not be opened, so the bottom of the chest was broken. First the discoverers found two rusty pistols of an ancient pattern, resting in a bed of flax. Then followed a motley collection, including a plain gold ring, apparently the wedding pledge of some pioneer bride; a silver cased watch of Swiss manufacture, a small dagger and a rust stained hunting knife; leather-bound books, dating from 1767 to 1819, among them a Bible, "Children of the Book" and "Book of Psephism." There were several school books and a number of pennies bearing dates from 1781 to 1834; samples of silver, lead and copper ores, articles of silver and collection of pebbles. Deeds dating back as far as 1730 related to property at Plymouth, Conn.

SPIRIT ROAMS O'ER LAKE.

A letter found in the chest read in part as follows:

"This chest is the property of Hesikia Thomas, formerly of New England, later of the Michigan wilderness, a spiritualist of God, believing my spirit still roams over these lakes in the full moon seasons, guarding all my valuable deposited possessions, for the many and many."

"God gave me many wonderful secrets, but because of the great sin he took them all away but one—the least of them—the turning of sable stones into gold. I have buried this secret of the body of 'Old Duckwing' in the Big Swamp. God rest my soul."

"God has filled the earth with gold. Devils do not believe it, but has He not promised, 'seek and find'? The blue heron is wise and the night owl, but man is a fool for the walketh not in the ways of the most good."

A little of the story of the peculiar old hermit, Thomas, is known here.

George Knevels, who lives in a portion of a house on the shore of the lake, as a boy he recollects finding carefully hidden collections of pebbles in the shore. It is said that Thomas' wife deserted him and that his queerness became noticeable about the same time.

"ABODE OF DEVILS."

He roamed the woods "conversing" with trees and animals and believed he could transmute certain stones into gold. After selling his home here, Thomas moved to an island in the lake, to which, in one part of his letter, he refers to the "Abode of the Seven Devils."

According to another letter found in the box there is another chest buried on the island. A map gives instructions or directions for finding a third chest, a key to which is said to be hidden in a tree. The whole neighborhood is excited over the search immediately begun for the chest. The other parts of the letter in which Thomas revealed his secrets read:

"The island is doomed forever, as it is the abiding place of the seven devils. Beware! Fish die, birds drop as they pass and man disappears in the cavernous depths of the cave."

RECREANT SPOUSE.

Another excerpt of the letter, possibly refers to his recreant spouse. "The last time I saw her from the evil one. The knife is that which drank his life's blood and is cursed forever. The books were her possession from the other days before the great shadow fell. The man may claim his papers. Duck Wing knows how I came by them. He died far from of fate. The sword was his that I found on his body. He had obtained the ring, but the spirits bound him."

"The gold pebbles were my own, product of my genius. Place them in the spring at midnight, as the blue heron passes the swamp—as believing, nothing but the swamp—will aid you. The spirits, I must be gone. Farewell."

Thomas' body was found in the woods about fifty years ago. He had been frozen to death.

NAVAL OFFICER DIES AT MARE ISLAND YARD

MARE ISLAND, July 6.—Lieutenant Commander Alfred A. Pratt, U. S. N., died here at the Mare Island Naval hospital on Tuesday, July 4. Pratt was a former navigator of the cruiser Colorado, Pacific squadron, had been on sick leave for three months, receiving treatment in the hospital. He was placed on the retired list only last Monday.

Commander Pratt had seen considerable active service. Entering the naval academy in 1889 he was graduated in 1893. During the Spanish-American war he was attached to the cruiser Marblehead, stationed in the West Indies. In 1894 he came to this coast to join the Olympia. He was ordered to the Pensacola at Goat Island in 1903.

Commander Pratt joined the Colorado early this year, but ill health forced him to leave the vessel.

Pratt belonged to the Army and Navy and Bohemian clubs of San Francisco and also was a member of Sycamore lodge of Masons, Sycamore, Ill. He leaves a widow in this city. Arrangements for the funeral will be made on the arrival of his brother, Lloyd A. Pratt, of Seattle.

STRIKERS AID P-A-Y-E CARS PLACED ON POLICE IN RIOT

Carters Co-operate With the Authorities in Subduing Riots.

Enforced Idleness of Mill Help Complicates the Situation.

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 6.—The situation growing out of the strike of the carters was further complicated today by the enforced idleness of thousands of cotton operatives. Many mills are unable to obtain coal and other supplies and have been compelled to shut down indefinitely.

Thousands of strikers and others out of work were in the streets, but the police, aided by several hundred coal miners, who struck today in sympathy with the carters and dockers, who have not yet returned to work.

Some 750 troops and 300 London police arrived today. There was an occasional recurrence of stone throwing, but the police, swinging their clubs, quickly routed the manifestos. The strike leaders declare that the police are not the strikers, are responsible for the rioting that has taken place. In some places strike pickets co-operated with the police in quelling disturbances.

FULLER ON TRIAL AT MARE ISLAND

The Former Paymaster's Clerk Appears Before Court-martial Board.

MARE ISLAND, July 6.—The trial of Paymaster's Clerk James V. Fuller, retired, who is charged with embezzlement, neglect of duty, misappropriation of funds, inefficiency, scandalous conduct and deception, began yesterday morning before a court-martial board of which Captain J. D. Griffin is president and Captain J. M. Sullivan judge advocate. Fuller was formerly of the receiving ship Independence and was arrested at Mare Island last February.

Fuller's counsel, Attorney Frank R. Devlin of Vallejo, objected to several of the charges, as he said they were not specific.

Devlin's objections were overruled. Fuller then pleaded "Not guilty." Fuller's former paymaster, and Pay Yeoman H. Heilpern were called to prove that Fuller was responsible for the work in the pay office of the Independence early this year.

There is much feeling between the man and Pippin, who sued Fuller to recover $2000, which he alleges his pay clerk embezzled. Heilpern and Rowland Thompson, another clerk, have already been tried, and Pippin will face the board next week.

Traction Company Has Them On Corners for Exhibition Purposes.

New Service Will Start On the Two Lines Next Monday Morning.

With the arrival of ten new pay-as-you-enter cars this week, the Oakland Traction company intends to commence the new service on the Eighth and Twelfth street lines next Monday morning. This afternoon at 2 o'clock until 3 o'clock one of the new type cars was placed at the intersection of both these thoroughfares and Broadway for the purpose of permitting the public to become acquainted with the manner of entering and leaving same. The cars will remain there until 2 o'clock tonight. They are an entirely new feature in Oakland.

Sixty of the cars have been ordered from St. Louis, and will arrive at intervals from now on until August 1, when it is expected that all of the new cars will be in operation. That their installation will be a move to give quicker service on all the important lines in the city was the statement of Superintendent J. P. Potter today. The roof of the new vehicle is the increased number of cars and the headway on the lines will be reduced from one-half minute to as much as two minutes, giving one of the most efficient services in the city.

WILL BE MORE CARS.

Particularly will the frequency of cars on the greater traveled lines be enforced during the hours when traffic is congested in the downtown district. At first five each of the new type cars will be put in operation on the two streets above mentioned, while the Grand avenue line will probably be put out on to handle each car. The cars will more efficiently handle the traffic than the old type, to the belief of the company management.

The seating capacity is 48, with ample standing room. Each car is 4 feet long and nine feet wide, equipped with longitudinal seats and drop platform. A motor of 148 horse power is provided for each car. The roof of the new vehicle is of the monitor style, minus the conventional flat deck, and presents the latest in running stock, constructed with steel. The walls and ceiling of the interior are of mahogany finish, with all metal work of bronze. The latest air brakes are installed in each car.

Appeal Notice Filed In De Laveaga Case

Cebrian Heirs Renew Their Efforts to Secure Valuable Legacy.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Notice of appeal was filed this morning in the De Laveaga case by the Cebrian heirs, who intend to fight to the last ditch for the legacy bequeathed them by the will of the late Maria Concepcion de Laveaga. Judge Coffey, in a recent decision, broke the will, thereby giving Manuel de Laveaga an equal interest in the property with Mrs. Cebrian, his sister. De Laveaga had previously been cut off with a small sum, the most of the estate going to Mrs. Cebrian. The case was in the local superior court for a year and a half and it is likely to consume considerable time in the supreme court.

PARK COMMISSION ABOLISHED BY COUNCIL

Committee of Alameda Legislative Body to Handle the Affairs of Areas.

MAYOR IS IN FAVOR OF ONLY ELECTIVE BODIES

Routine Business Is Transacted at Regular Session of Municipal Fathers.

ALAMEDA, July 6.—The ordinance repealing the park and playground commission was adopted last night by the city council. The ordinance was introduced by Councilman E. J. Probst, who said that the commission had been established by the city council in 1911, and that it had since that time been a source of trouble and expense to the city. He said that the commission had no authority to raise money, and that it had no power to acquire land. He said that the commission had been a failure, and that it was time to abolish it. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

HAS ALWAYS OPPOSED.

D. L. Randolph asked the council why the commission had been abolished. Councilman Probst answered that the commission had been a failure, and that it was time to abolish it. He said that the commission had no authority to raise money, and that it had no power to acquire land. He said that the commission had been a failure, and that it was time to abolish it. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

COMMITTEE AT WORK.

Leo Robinson said that the park and playground movement is a big one and that in his opinion the affairs of the parks and playgrounds should be handled by a committee of the council. He said that the commission had been a failure, and that it was time to abolish it. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

STATION LIGHTING.

Mayor New asked the council as to the lighting of streets in the vicinity of the local railroad stations. Councilman Hammond reported that the matter is now being considered by Superintendent of the local electric plant, and that the city will probably be erected for several hundred feet on each side of each station. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

BARN CONDEMNED.

The barn on the north side of Webb avenue, just east of Park street, owned by J. V. McLaughlin, was condemned. The action was taken on the recommendation of the police and fire committee and Building Inspector John Dwyer. The barn is a menace to the buildings in its vicinity, it is claimed.

SEWER BIDS OPEN.

Bids were opened for the construction of a sewer in Grand street, south of Fulton avenue and the contract awarded to J. A. Brown. The sewer is to be 48 inches in diameter and 100 feet long. The cost of the sewer is estimated at $1,000. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

TO LIGHT BRIDGES.

Councilman Hammond also reported that the city will enter into a contract with the city to supply power to the bridges.

GIRL ELOPES AND OLD WELL MAKES PAPA DOESN'T FORGIVE

TRouble ON SITE OF CITY HALL

Just Stares at the Frightened Bridegroom and Turns On His Heel.

MISS ETHEL SMITH IS HEROINE OF ROMANCE

Husband-to-Be Looks Up the Perjury Laws, But Decides to Risk It.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The romance of Ethel Rich Smith and E. A. Brandeis, which led to their ultimate elopement and marriage, is a tale of tribulations, the culmination of which is not just clear to the young bride and groom.

Neither knows how he or she stands with the marriage until it is announced yesterday that the announcement of the marriage, which took place two weeks ago. They had intended to keep the matter a secret for some months to come, but romance will out.

Ethel Rich Smith Brandeis is the daughter of C. B. Smith, a wealthy land owner of Moss Beach. Young Brandeis is the publisher of a weekly periodical at Sacramento.

Five weeks ago they met for the first time, and it was the old case of love at first sight.

ATTEND PICNIC.

Following a picnic at Half Moon bay with Ethel Smith and others, Brandeis went to Stanford, where he again met the girl. Brandeis and Miss Smith decided that they would go to San Jose the next day and be married.

Accordingly, "Brandeis went to San Jose with E. Nohl, who resides at the Hotel Jefferson.

At San Jose they telephoned Miss Smith, and she accompanied by Miss Eliza Lang of Berkeley, proceeded to the side of her husband-to-be.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Schrand. A wedding supper was enjoyed by the four at the Hotel Jefferson.

The secret was too good to be kept. One at a time friends were told of the marriage until it seemed that only the bride's father was not "in on" the secret.

To say that the news was a shock to the Moss Beach capitalist would be putting it mildly.

MADE NO COMMENT.

Brandeis journeyed down to Moss Beach to break the news, and he claims that it took some courage to do it. There was no story scene nor anything of that kind, but Brandeis would have preferred it so.

The bride's father merely looked at the young man and then walked away without comment.

Brandeis returned to the city while his wife remained with her father. Neither knows where they are going to settle down in their own cozy flat, but they are hoping for the best.

The bride is not 18 years of age, and Brandeis was very careful to inquire of an attorney before the marriage ceremony was performed, what the punishment would be in a perjury charge. Evidently he was willing to take chances for he did not hesitate to go through with the ceremony.

KAPPLE LARCENY CASE DISMISSED

The Defendant Was Accused of Stealing Dozen Silver Spoons.

ALAMEDA, July 6.—The charge of petit-larceny preferred against J. A. Kapple by Thomas A. Stansberry was dismissed this morning by Police Judge Tappan.

Kapple was accused of stealing a dozen silver spoons from the home of Stansberry on Clinton avenue while he was there several months ago. The spoons were returned last week with a note alleged to have been written by the defendant in which he said: "I return your spoons, but I will kill you and steal Alice," signed with the initials of Kapple.

Kapple at the time of his arrest stated that he was ignorant of the theft of the spoons or the note which had been written and signed with his initials. The Stansberry state that Kapple's attention to their daughter, who is only 16 years old, have been very harmful to them and Kapple claims that at all times the Stansberry would invite him to their home and always acted in a very friendly manner. Kapple is a Russian and from his testimony and his friends he has always been a hard working man since coming to this country, which was four years ago.

ALAMEDA COURTS DISPOSE OF CASES

J. S. Carr Found Guilty of Trespassing, as Charged by Woman.

ALAMEDA, July 6.—The case against J. S. Carr, who is charged by Mrs. Kearney with trespassing on ground came up before Judge Tappan this morning and was laid over until next Tuesday for judgment. Carr having been found guilty of trespassing.

Three young boys, arrested July 2 for swimming in the estuary without bathing suits, Victor Herbert, John Ewing and Aubrey Holmes, were dismissed on account of their ages. All three boys claim that they were swimming with trunks on, but did not wear a shirt to their suit.

Miss Simon, a peddler, who was arrested for driving over a sidewalk curbing, pleaded guilty and was fined $2. George Ash, who was discharging a pistol with blank cartridges when arrested, pleaded guilty to the offense and the case against him was dismissed.

ALAMEDA, July 6.—Under the command of Major Magagnos the Boy Scouts will visit the Oakland Bell Theater tomorrow as the guests of the man-armor at 12 o'clock in uniform with their car fare. No Boy Scout will be admitted into the theater free of charge unless he wears his uniform. A remarkable military picture film will be shown at the Bell Theater tomorrow and the Boy Scouts of Alameda, Berkeley and Oakland have been invited to visit the theater as guests of the management.

ALAMEDA, July 6.—The management of the Pullman hotel yesterday entertained about 100 guests on the night of the Fourth with a boxing exhibition. The contestants were Peter Peterson of Chicago and Joe Daly of San Francisco. The match was a cut, wound, bruise or sore fight, but not a knock-out. Great excitement was given by the referee, Peterson. This was the first of a series of such events which the management is planning. An athletic club has already been formed here, with the object of holding boxing exhibitions, the club having taken rooms in the rear of the hotel.

E. W. Straight of Chicago registered at the Pullman hotel yesterday. Straight was sent to Pullman by the officials of the main office of the Pullman Company to install some machinery in the shops here.

Percy Livingstone of San Francisco was a visitor here yesterday afternoon on business.

C. F. Dooley is circulating a petition to the voters of Richmond and Pullman getting signatures for the purpose of petitioning the city council of Richmond to take steps to bond the city for $450,000 to build an inner harbor at the outlet of Ellis creek, the election to be held August 11, 1911.

Paper and Old Clothes Will Make Poor Foundation for New Building.

EXCAVATORS MEET PROBLEM IN DIGGING

Pit Is Deep Enough, But Water Hole Continues to Yield Debris.

Re-excavation of an old well dug many years ago and filled with rubbish some ten years ago is causing the workers on the city hall site some discomfort. The old well, which formerly supplied a tank above the old fire house on Fifteenth street, which was recently razed to the ground and made room for the new city hall, was abandoned many years ago and filled with straw, old clothes, bricks, pieces of wood and debris of various kinds. Excavating for the concrete foundations of the new 17-story city hall, the workers encountered a deep hole in the hard clay and Supervising Architect J. J. Donovan immediately decided that the soft hay and old clothes could not be a proper foundation for the mass of steel, masonry, granite and concrete which will compose the new city hall.

AND STILL IT YIELDS.

The well was excavated with the rest of the site between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets and carried down foot by foot with the balance of the work. Old baskets, straw, books, papers, pieces of wood and debris of various kinds were taken from the old hole. Now the excavation of the main portion of the work has reached the required depth, but the well continues to produce debris.

As the specifications for the $1,000,000 city hall call for a firm clay foundation able to sustain a heavy load at all points, the contractors have no alternative but to dig down into the debris until they find solid bottom. The excavation of the well has been carried many feet below the level of the lowest excavation, but so far the tangled mass of old clothes, straw, papers and refuse continues.

MACK ADVANCES

HARMON'S CLAIM

The Chairman of Democratic National Committee Plays No Favorites.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 6.—That Chairman Norman E. Mack of the Democratic national committee is not playing any favorites for the Democratic presidential nomination is indicated by the fact that in the July number of his Democratic magazine, National Monthly, he presents the claim of Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio for the nomination. This formal presentation was preceded by the presentation of Governor Marshall of Indiana and Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey in preceding numbers. After reviewing Governor Harmon's career and paying particular attention to his record as governor, the article comments:

"To say that Judson Harmon is indifferent to the movement which is now nation-wide to make him the leader of the Democratic-progressive-patriotic majority of the national electorate in the presidential contest of 1912, would be to impeach his intelligence. If the exigencies of the impending 12 months call him as the leader in the final, and it is to be hoped, triumphant, battle between manhood and Mammon, he will advance the standard of the people with iron nerve and unswerving determination. If another is accorded the chieftainship he will be found at the front."

POSTAL SAVINGS BONDS OF U. S. ARE POPULAR

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Postmaster General Hitchcock has announced that applications from depositors to purchase savings postal savings bonds on July 1 aggregated 42,000. Of these more than 25,000 were applied in registered form, indicating the intention of depositors to retain the bonds as an investment. Fifty additional second class offices were designated by the postmaster general as postal depositories. They will be ready to receive deposits July 10.

Rep. Henry Assails American Heiresses Who Have Made Foreign Alliances.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Lavish display by diplomats in foreign courts was described as against the dignity of this public. "dollar diplomacy" was denounced as a dangerous thing and American heiresses who have made international alliances were assailed, in a speech in the House by Representative Henry of Texas.

ALLEGES FRAUD AGAINST BIG POWER CORPORATION

JACKSON, July 6.—Articles of incorporation of the Mokelumne River Power Company have been filed with the county clerk. This is the company which William H. Underwood, in his complaint against George C. Bruce, the California and others, named as the one likely to have transferred to its valuable water rights, reservoir sites, etc., in the mountains of Amador and Calaveras counties by Bruce and others after first having been redeemed to them by the General Electric. He charges that the transactions are for the purpose of defrauding him of a large sum.

SENDS BLACK HAND LETTER.

FRANKLIN, Pa., July 6.—Thomas J. Dempsey, head of a private detective agency, was held for court yesterday, accused of sending a "black hand" letter to General Charles A. Miller, a military expert. Four handwriting experts testified that the writing in the letter and a letter signed by Dempsey were the same.

MANAGERIAL TROUBLES ARE TOLD BY CLEVER BELL TEAM

Clever, Nick Long and equally clever Idlene Cotton, daughter of old Ben Cotton of pleasant memory, are at the Bell Theater with a brand new comedy—brand new and original—entitled "Managerial Troubles." It is a "back stage" scene, with Nick as stage manager and Idlene as a young woman with a lot of ambition and not much else. Of course it offers every opportunity for Miss Cotton's famous imitations and she makes the most of her opportunities. One of her numbers is an imitation of Mrs. Plake in "Salvation Nell," and another is Anna Held. Also she puts over a creation of her own, with Mr. Long's assistance, she calls "The Dagoes."

It is not going over far to say that vaudeville has produced no more brilliant or interesting military spectacles than "The U. S. A. Boys" are showing this week, after three years of extraordinary successes in Europe. The "U. S. A. Boys" are a full troop of highly trained soldiers, most of them drafted from the regular army. Their act is a highly realistic attack upon a fort by the enemy's navy. The attack, the siege, the rescue by the war boats from "home" and the repulse are all shown in brilliant if noisy fashion, the machine guns keeping up a lively tattoo throughout the engagement.

FILLED WITH HUMOR.

Mort Fox, himself a Hebrew, is filled to the brim with the humor of his race and has hit, upon a happy knack of passing it on without in any wise caricaturing those of his religion. Fox stands among the many who lead in expressing Hebrew comedy types, and his reputation as a delineator is more than national. It is not necessary to say that a golden tenor voice adds much to the delight of his act.

Two as competent black-face fun-makers as one could care to see are Spiegel and Dunn. There are black-face artists, no end, in vaudeville, but there are only a few top-notchers and these two youngsters class with that division. In addition to their funning they offer also a most attractive line of dancing with a song or so thrown in by way of good measure.

ASSESSMENT ROLL SHOWS BIG GAIN

Total of $10,452,039 Will Be Turned Into the State Treasury.

SACRAMENTO, July 6.—The State assessment rolls turned over to State Controller Nye by the State Board of Equalization show a total of $10,452,039, which will be paid into the State treasury by corporations to run the government for the next fiscal year. This is $75,000 more than was announced some time ago, when the Board had completed the rolls, but had not yet listened to complaints.

Under the new law—framed under tax amendment No. 1 by the last Legislature—corporations are taxed according to the value of their stocks, the amount of their receipts and in accordance with the report as to the business required by the Board. The total, it is thought, will be sufficient to conduct the affairs of the State for the next year, and there will be no need of an ad valorem tax and a special session of the Legislature to get funds for the State. Here are the totals the several classes of corporations will have to pay:

Banks, $1,937,859.30; railroads, $4,776,053.58; telephone and telegraph companies, $424,799.34; gas and electric companies, $1,221,691.94; car companies, $97,282.02; express companies, $102,351.71; and insurance companies $520,214.68.

State Controller Nye announced today the report of receipts and expenditures by the State for the fiscal year ending June 30, and a comparison of the same for the fiscal year of 1909-10. The receipts paid into the treasury June 30, 1911, $348,271.32; Disbursements $1,260,868.32; total receipts for fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, $17,377,175.24; total disbursements for the same period, $18,020,555.39. For 1909-10 the receipts were $18,487,881.72, and the disbursements $18,753,720.21. The balance on hand in the State treasury on June 30, 1910, was $6,508,149.63; and the amount on hand June 30, 1911, was $6,553,555.60.

REFUSES TO PAY SECTARIAN TAX

Dr. John Clifford Again Defies the British Officials to Collect.

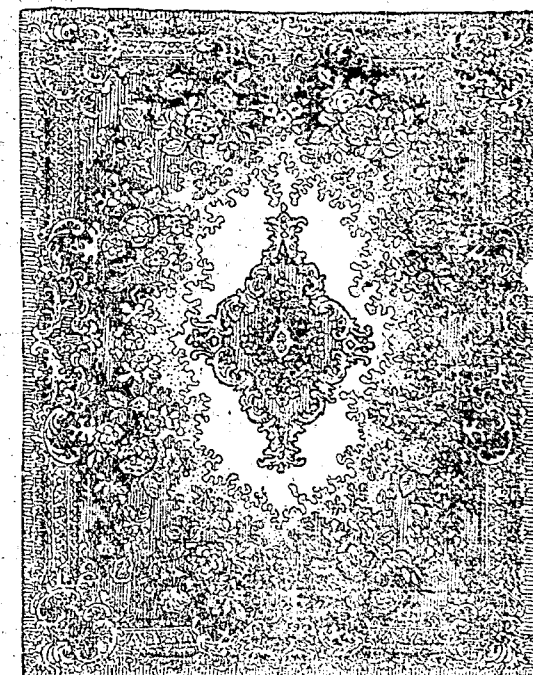

LONDON, July 6.—Dr. John Clifford, the non-conformist minister, who was a delegate to the recent Lake Mohawk conference, has again refused to pay the sectarian state education tax. Dr. Clifford, who is at present in Canada, has written to the authorities saying that they can either distrain his goods or attempt to imprison him on his return to England. He concludes his letter which was written at Lake Mohawk, by saying: "I write this letter in a country where the sectarian legislation against what I am protesting is regarded with amazement and indignation. They have none of it. The United States owe their origin to men driven out of England by religious persecution. We are bound to do all we can to drive religious persecution out of England."

NEWSPAPERMAN HURT.
SACRAMENTO, July 6.—In an automobile accident on the Folsom road yesterday, a newspaperman, George A. Smith, was probably fatally injured and Halsey Smith, an automobile salesman was slightly hurt. George Smith's skull was fractured, and it is believed he sustained internal injuries.
